

Record Fair Is Expected

Auto Races This Afternoon With First Of The Horse Shows Tonight

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Forty-Seventh Exposition of the Missouri State Fair, anticipated to open today with a record attendance. Saturday night attendance through the "free gate" was estimated at more than 20,000 persons anxious to see the preview of the fair grounds and midway.

"If the attendance on the grounds tonight is any indication," Secretary of the State Fair Roy S. Kemper said Saturday night, "then the rest of the fair days should be record breakers. I was never so surprised to see so many automobiles and people on the grounds during the evening as were here during the day and night."

Races And Thrills

Continuing, Mr. Kemper remarked, "Cooperation on the part of everyone has been far better this year than in many seasons and the exhibitors appear tickled over the competition they are getting. The concessionaires have remarked they anticipate a better season than was experienced in 1948. Certainly the addition of the Grand Circuit harness races, and bringing to the fair the greatest thrill shows in the Joe Chittwood troupe, and changing of sponsors of the automobile races should give Missourians a far greater show in 1949 than ever before."

Robert Thornburg, commissioner of agriculture, who is experiencing his first fair in the capacity of commissioner, but who has attended fairs for the past fifteen years assisting in 4-H, FFA, and other activities of youthful farmers, is more than pleased with the coming fair. "You might say, that after looking over the grounds and exhibits already here, and the activity of Saturday night, I just feel plain good about it all," he said.

Really Busy Place

Robert S. Clough, former Pettis County Extension agent, who is supervisor of 4-H activities, remarked, "It's the busiest place I have ever seen. I've attended many fairs but Saturday's activity on the grounds indicates to me a record breaking exposition for 1949."

A man who attends most of the fair expositions and the largest of horse shows, McCormack Steele, husband of Mrs. Bobbie Steele, who has the two dressage horse act for the horse show, this year, remarked, "I was certainly surprised, when I arrived. Not a fly have I seen on the grounds and that is more than I can say for many other fairs I have attended this year."

Sanitation Near Perfect

Secretary Kemper after hearing the remark reported the sanitation conditions of the Missouri State Fair are as near perfect as they could be. He reported every building on the grounds had been "fogged" using Chloridene and DDT solutions. "We anticipate no illness from food poisoning, or anything else, regardless of how large or small the attendance might be," he said.

The outside gates to the grounds open at 6:00 o'clock and remain open to the public until midnight.

The feature event on the grounds today, the Automobile State Fair Championship races, start at 1:30 o'clock. The Johnny J. Jones Exposition opens at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Horse Show Tonight

The first of the week's horse shows will be given tonight in front of the grandstand starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Serves Fair 33 Years

James H. White, dean of State Fair employees and a widely-known former Sedalian, arrived in Sedalia Saturday to serve his thirty-third year at the State Fair. He formerly was an instructor of biology, zoology and botany in the Sedalia high school, and also taught school in several other towns. He is a most versatile man and has been a deputy sheriff and peace officer in various localities, auditor, and various other titles. In World War I, he spent several years in France and served in other countries, too.

Mr. White now lives in Kansas City but never fails to come back to the fair. He has held many different jobs here, but this week will serve as grounds man at the main gate, where he will have an opportunity to meet hundreds of persons from all over the state with whom he has become acquainted.

Acceptances By 1,000 To Be At Wedding

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Quiz shows are wonderful, but what do you do with a thousand wedding guests?

That was today's problem for West Point Cadet Ralph Stephenson and his 24-year-old fiancée, Miss June McFarland of Yonkers. They stepped up to the microphone last night on ABC's "Break the Bank" program and won $4,610.

Overcome by an impulse of delight, Cadet Stephenson invited the audience—all several millions of it—to his wedding next June in the cadet chapel. Stephenson, a hospitable Southerner, comes from Jena, La.

The chapel holds 1,500, and by noon today, 1,000 had wired or phoned their acceptance. Ralph and June are shuddering now—waiting for Monday's mail.

"Are we in a pot?" giggled the happy Miss McFarland. "I hope some of them have short memories."

Some Of Cool Spots Saturday

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—A late summer chill sent temperatures skidding to record or near record lows today in areas from the Mississippi river to the Atlantic seaboard.

A gradual warmup over the week-end is expected to draw the sting from the air in the mid-west, but forecasters said the east is in for at least two more days of nippy weather.

The cool air mass blew down from Canada bringing these minimum readings:

Chicago 55, lowest for the date on record; Indianapolis 53, lowest for the date since 1897; Philadelphia 57, lowest Aug. 20 since 1896 and New York 56, all-time low for the date.

Kane, Pa., had a frosty 30; Land O'Lakes, Wis., 30; Cadillac, Mich., 31; Hartford, Conn., 46; Cleveland, 49; Pittsburgh, 50, and Amarillo, Tex., 63.

The cool air line stretched well into Texas. In only a narrow band near the gulf coast were temperatures still above normal.

Temperatures were about normal from the Mississippi river westward to the Rockies and along the Pacific coast.

Skies were generally clear across the country, except for showers in southern Missouri, and parts of Kentucky, Tennessee and north Carolina.

Invite MFA To Sedalia For Convention

Executive Body Would Discuss Any Proposal Made Races Directed By

It has been announced by Vivian Warren, director of conventions and housing of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, that a telegram was sent to Mr. Heinrich, President of the Missouri Farm-ers Association, inviting this organization to hold its annual 1950 convention in Sedalia.

In a letter received at the Chamber of Commerce from Mr. R. J. Rosier, secretary-treasurer, it stated that "the board of directors took no action regarding the designation of the city in which the convention should be held in 1950 as this is never done this far in advance. I will be glad to discuss your invitation with proper officials before any decision is finally made so that our board and executive committee will have all of these facts as to facilities available for such a meeting."

This convention, which up until a few years ago was held at the Missouri State Fair Grounds immediately after the closing of the State Fair, was moved to Columbia, Missouri, during the war. It attracts 3,000 to 5,000 delegates and the Chamber of Commerce has pledged full cooperation and assistance in working out the many details including the housing. The housing bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, which is most active during Fair week, could be continued on to also accommodate the MFA delegates.

One of the advantages for having the convention in Sedalia was brought out by the fact that the MFA has quite an extensive exhibit at the Fair Grounds each year and this would be of great benefit to the delegates. This exhibit is located beneath the grandstand, a place it has had for several years.

Some Court House Offices On Schedule

The following offices in the Pettis county court house will be open every day during fair week: Prosecuting attorney's office, circuit clerk's office and the sheriff's office.

Some county officials were uncertain Saturday as to whether their offices would remain open every day during fair week, while other officials indicated they would definitely be closed all day on Tuesday and Thursday and every afternoon during the fair exposition.

At 81 In 'Chute' Drop 2000 Feet

Bernarr MacFadden, Former Sedalian, Makes The Leap

DANSVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Physical culturist Bernarr MacFadden jumped today and walked away smiling.

MacFadden came down about 7:30 p.m. (EDT) in a field half a mile from Dansville airport.

Mrs. MacFadden rolled up to the scene in a red convertible, jumped out, ran to meet her husband and shouted:

"Oh, you wonderful man, you," MacFadden stamped around climbing out of his parachute rig.

"It was wonderful coming down," he said.

He jumped from about 2,000 feet.

A threat of arrest by state police, if he went through with the jump, dissolved. The officers apparently were satisfied when a MacFadden aide announced over a loudspeaker at the airport that it was not an exhibition jump and asked the spectators to go away.

Many of them did, but began to trickle back well before the breeze died down making the leap possible.

MacFadden's announced purpose was to prove "this growing old idea is all nonsense."

Bernarr MacFadden, many years ago when a Sedalia resident, was interested in wrestling promotion and strenuous athletic contests.

More Than Double Quota On Polio

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 20.—(AP)—It wasn't hard to get Oklahoma's 4-H clubs to begin a drive for $5,000 in the state's fight against polio.

"Now the job is to get them stopped, state extension director Shawnee Brown said today. "We sent telegrams to every county agent in the state last Tuesday telling them the quota had been raised, and we're still getting money."

The 50,000 4-H's collected $10,592.18 in the five-weeks drive. The money will be used to equip a new communicable disease center at University hospital here.

"The kids just won't stop sending money in," Brown said.

Quick Action Frustrates A Would-be Thief

Lewey Hargrove Is Quick With Fists And Overtakes Youth

Quick action on the part of Mrs. Debert Wilson of Iowa City, Ia., helped the police apprehend an 18-year-old youth, who according to Mrs. Wilson forced himself in her automobile parked at Third street and Ohio avenue, Saturday night about 7:30 o'clock, and attempted to drive off with her and a 1948 Ford Deluxe coach.

The youth gave his name to police as Carl Van Noy of Sweet Springs. He is being held for investigation at the city jail.

Mrs. Wilson said she was sitting in the car, waiting for her husband to return, when Van Noy forced himself in the driver's seat and told her to move over and "not say anything and you won't get hurt."

She said she started the car and traveled about three blocks, and when he slowed up for a stop sign, she grabbed the key out of the ignition and ran to a house and called police.

In the meantime, according to the report, VanNoy abandoned the car and ran. He ran upon a porch where Lewey Hargrove, 19, 1320 South Kentucky avenue, was visiting a girl friend. The man stuck his finger in his ribs and told him "not to move or he would blow his 'guts' out. It was evident the threat didn't faze Hargrove because he began using his fists.

Is Beaten by Hargrove

When police arrived on the scene Hargrove was still beating on his would be assailant to such an extent the officers had to separate them.

At police headquarters Van Noy said to the police "Put me in jail and get me away from that fellow," meaning Hargrove. It was evident to the officers Hargrove could take care of himself in a "tight pinch."

The man was identified by Robert "Bob" Farris, 416 East Third street, as the same man who crawled into his car parked in the 200 block on South Lamine avenue and wanted to take it. Farris reported to the officers he told the man to take the keys but he didn't care to accompany him. The fellow instead jumped out of the car and ran.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are temporarily staying at 1515 South Quincy avenue while in Sedalia. Mr. Wilson is a traveling salesman. Mrs. Wilson reported she received a sprained wrist out of the ordeal.

British Press Is Annoyed By Criticism

Injured National Pride Is Shown In Protest Voiced

By Hal Cooper

LONDON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The steady lashing from some sections of American public opinion raised welts on the British hide today. The result: Supporters of the Labor government struck back, independent organs showed a flash of injured national pride, the Conservative Press protested.

The stream of suggestions that Britain would need less dollar help from the U. S. if she would do more to help herself, gave rise to this headline in the Sunday Pictorial, a pro-Labor tabloid which claims 5,000,000 circulation: "We British are tired of Yankee insults."

Emanuel Shinwell, minister of war, in a speech at Aspatia declared it was time that the American and other critics quit "sneering" at Britain and remember that "the game of twisting the lion's tail is a risky one and it may recoil on those who indulge in this pastime."

"The suggestion that Britain is played out is sheer nonsense," he continued, adding that it was time "due recognition was given to the part played by this country in world affairs."

"Now, when we have almost exhausted ourselves in six years of war and find ourselves in a grave economic position, our magnificent efforts in the past are overlooked," he complained.

Seek Lasting Cure

From the British point of view the criticism from abroad couldn't come at a worse time. U. S. British and Canadian officials will go into a huddle in Washington Sept. 6 to see whether they can find a lasting cure for Britain's dollar shortage.

The Sunday Pictorial printed a cartoon in which a slovenly, bowery bum of a John Bull stands in front of a bar room labeled "Socialist Saloon" holding out a tin cup to Uncle Sam.

"This insulting cartoon—typical of hundreds of others on the same theme—has just appeared in the American press," said the Pictorial's caption. The Pictorial said the cartoon was from the Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal.

In an article the abloid commented that "it is fair to say that the British are riled. In fact, we're damned annoyed."

The Pictorial said some Americans seem to think Britain is "living on borrowed time and American money," and demanded to know:

"Well—is it also conceded that twice in this century the Americans have lived on borrowed time and British lives? And do you realize that one day you may need to do so again?"

In general American criticism reproduced here has taken these main lines:

Here it is four years after the war and Britain still has its hand out for dollars. How much longer is this going on?

The British workman produces only half as much on the average as his counterpart in an American factory. He should work harder.

Britain cannot afford a five-day working week at a time like this.

The Labor government is pampering the worker with welfare and health services which demand outrageously high taxes. Private enterprise is robbed of its incentive and does not risk capital for possible new profits.

Tell Of Production

To these criticisms the Laborites reply: British industry took a beating during the war, yet produced in the first quarter of this year at 131 per cent of the 1938 rate.

This is a better showing than any other industrial nation of Western Europe which took part in the war.

British exports are running 156 per cent of pre-war. The trouble is in selling them to dollar areas.

The recent falling off of U. S. buying has hurt.

The British workman produces less than the American because he has fewer machines to help him. British industry is modernizing as fast as it can, especially in the branches that are now state-owned.

The British workman produced only half as much as the American even before the war—when Britain had a conservative government.

As for the five-day week, average hours worked in the United Kingdom, including overtime, are 45½ a week for men, compared with 47½ in 1938, and 42 and 41 for women and juveniles, compared with 44 and 43 in 1938.

Big Dance A Labor Day Event

Plans for the celebration of Labor Day in Sedalia by the crafts affiliated with the Sedalia Federation of Labor was the principal topic up for discussion at the regular meeting of the above organization held recently in Labor Hall.

Due to many contributing circumstances it was decided to dispense with the customary street parade that has been held in the past, but that the day will not pass without some observance by the organized crafts in Sedalia.

A free dance will be held that night at Liberty Park Convention Hall. This dance will be entirely admission free to the public and will be sponsored by the Sedalia Federation of Labor and its affiliated organizations.

Lee Brandt's orchestra will furnish music and plans for the evening are expected to follow those of a similar event that was so well received last year.

Further announcements will be made through the press and various organizations associated with the Federation.

Style Guide for today's woman

By Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

For the back to school set these are busy days and shopping tours are endless. Corduroy is more popular than ever and the colors offer confusion on which to choose. The fitted double-breasted jacket is quite popular and very sophisticated. Skirts have a slight fullness, either in unpressed plaits or flares and most of them have a narrow belt.

A new feathered shirt came in this week—it has long sleeves and high collar with a side zipper angling down the front like the men's sport shirts. Another new arrival is a pastel casual gabardine dress—with it, is a contrasting feathered weskit. It has a half belt across the back and self-covered buttons down the front. It gives you two changes that will give your wardrobe prestige.

You'll find suede shoes and purses to match many of the corduroy colors perfectly. Get on the style wagon early and accumulate your wardrobe of corduroys before the choice colors are gone in your size. As you perhaps know, the mills make only so much corduroy and that is all.

To Give Hymn Books of Late Singer Away

Known her entire life as a singer, first as Miss Anna Mertz, and later as Mrs. Charles H. Bard, the late Mrs. Bard, who never refused to sing when asked, whether it was at church, a funeral, a wedding or an entertainment, collected during her life many hymn books from all churches in Sedalia. In that way she always had at hand, as most singers do, the favorite hymns of all congregations.

When Mrs. Bard died her family found the hymn books and decided to give them to the Helen G. Steele Music Club of which she was a member but the club did not use hymn books and Mrs. E. F. Yancey, president of the club, wondered what to do with them. Then a suggestion was made by Rev. J. Fred King, pastor of the First Methodist church that there are many families in Sedalia who perhaps would like to have a hymn book in their homes.

Mrs. Yancey felt that it was a good suggestion and she is placing the hymn books, which number about 40, in the court house where anyone who would like to have one may pick one out. They are asked only to leave their names and addresses as the Music Club is interested in knowing the families in town who really wanted hymn books of their own.

With the revival of singing in the homes again as it was last winter the hymn books will be much in demand by Sedalia families. They may be found in the downstairs corridor of the court house.

The regular business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Lester Harrell.

The meeting concluded with the quarterly study of stewardship from the book, "Fine Art of Using," by Mrs. John Overmier.

Point Leaders Snyder And Luptow Enter

National Speedways Are Expected To Be Better Than Ever

Roaring race cars will whirl today on the Missouri State Fair oval in the first of two sanctioned championship speed meets booked for the 1949 exposition.

At the controls of the speeding racers will be many of the nation's topflight stars, including state, regional and national champions drawn from 13 widely scattered states.

Start at 1:30 O'Clock

The competition will be touched off at 1:30 p. m., with the one-lap qualifying time trials. The first of six wide open competitive races will begin at 2:30.

Today's events are the first to be directed on the Sedalia oval by National Speedways, Inc., far-flung promotional organization which annually supervises more state fair racing programs than any similar group.

The entry roster reads like a tournament of major circuit champions and challengers, including Deb Snyder of Kent, Ohio, the 1948 National Speedways champion, and Frank E. Luptow of Tampa, Fla., now leading on points for the 1949 title award.

These headliners are but two of seven great stars who have entered powerful Offenhausers, the most famous of all American auto racing engines, in the state fair contests.

Young Offenhauser Pilot

Such other Offenhauser pilots as young Bobby Grim of Indianapolis, Gene Aldridge of Fort Wayne, Ind., Cliff Griffith of Indianapolis, Frank Breeding of Cincinnati and Diz Diltz of Pittsburgh, will be on hand to challenge the supremacy of Snyder and Luptow.

The complete list of qualifiers:

Driver	Make of Car	City
Bobby Grim	City of Roses Offenhauser	Indianapolis, Ind.
Gene Aldridge	Dunlop Offenhauser	Ft. Wayne, Ind.
Cliff Griffith	Offenhauser	Indianapolis, Ind.
Deb Snyder	Offenhauser	Kent, Ohio
Diz Diltz	Offenhauser	Pittsburgh, Pa.
Frankie Luptow	Offenhauser	Tampa, Fla.
Frank Breeding	Offenhauser	Cincinnati, Ohio
Red Redmond	Frankland Hal	Atlanta, Ga.
Al Fleming	Denny Dreyer	Richmond, Va.
Fritz Tegtmeyer	Krasek	Elgin, Ill.
Dempsey Wilson	Gaynor	Inglewood, Calif.
Bob Millard	Berette	Aurora, Ill.
Ken Rubright	Rutherford	Davenport, Ia.
Vern Bradley	Grancor	Moline, Ill.
Ralph Moore	Gopher Special	Austin, Minn.
Buzz Barden	Knudsen	Syracuse, N. Y.
Ingevar Erickson	Hal	Gurnee, Ill.
Warren Hamilton	Hamilton	San Mateo, Calif.
Stan Callaway	Curtiss	Miami, Fla.
Ted Stubbe	Byrd Special	Milwaukee, Wis.
Hi Fasching	Edelbrock	St. Joseph, Mo.
Byron Fisher	McClure	Aurora, Ill.
Bob Green	Green Special	Aurora, Ill.
Douglas Roy	McDowell	Kansas City, Mo.
Bert Hellmuller	Curtiss	Louisville, Ky.
Ferdinand Tignor	Grancor	Kansas City, Mo.
J. D. Park	Offenhauser	San Antonio, Tex.

Besides these, big Allen (Red) Redmond, former Georgia Tech grid star, Al Fleming of Richmond, Va., Dempsey Wilson of Inglewood, Calif., Bert Hellmuller of Louisville, and others are slated to fight for honors.

Adding to the fury of the competition, all races except the feature sweepstakes will be started with the faster qualifying cars starting far at the rear of the field, handicapped in a move to sharpen the racing action.

Evenly matched down through the big field, all contenders will race engines which meet the Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile classification on piston displacement. This is an innovation for the state fair.

Many Win Feature Races

At least eight of the entrants have each won at least one 1949 feature race, according to National Speedway officials now in Sedalia to direct today's program.

Luptow leads with a string of 19 feature wins, with Aldridge, point leader of the Central States Racing association, and Bobby Grim boasting the next best records. Aldridge claims 11 features and Grim a total of nine.

Snyder has won fewer races but recently smashed Emory Collins' 50-mile.

Coaltown Sets Mile Record In Whirlaway

New World Mark Of 1:34 Wins $32,250 Stake

By Charles Dunkley

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 — (AP) — The Calumet farm's mighty Coaltown streaked to a world's record of 1:34 for the mile today in winning the $32,250 Whirlaway stakes at Washington park.

This searing performance shattered the former record of 1:34 2/5 established by the great Equipoise at Arlington park 17 years ago. It was equaled by Prevaricator last year at Golden Gate fields near San Francisco.

(The world's record for a straight course mile is 1:32 set by Mopuss at Brighton, Eng., in 1939.)

Ponder Second

Coaltown, in winning his eleventh victory in twelve starts this year, led his stablemate, Ponder, the Kentucky Derby winner, to the wire by two and one-quarter lengths. Star Reward, only thoroughbred to defeat Coaltown this season, finished third with May Reward fourth and Colossal fifth and last. The other two Calumet entries, Armed and Deluxe were scratched along with Delegate.

Coaltown, ridden by Jockey Steve Brooks, was loaded down with 130 pounds, compared to 128 pounds which Equipoise carried and 118 for Prevaricator in their record runs.

Because of the small, five-horse field, there was no place nor show betting. The Calumet entry went to the post at 1 to 5 odds, paying $2.60 to win.

Former M. U. Captain Signs With Pro Club

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 20 — (AP) — Chester Fritz, tackle and former captain of the University of Missouri football team, today signed a contract with the Richmond Rebels of the American Football League.

Sport Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

PROBABLY the good readers of this column are getting a little tired of my ramblings on—how good the automobile races are going to be today and next Saturday, and the Jole Chitwood Thrill Show being the best in the country—but in spite of it all, it's just as I have said before.

Gaylord White, of Sweeney and White National Speedways, Inc., who are promoting the races, declare that they expect to put across some of the finest races seen on the track. For years they have been endeavoring to get the Missouri State Fair contract, and being successful this year, they will not let anything happen which would keep them from getting it again and again. White, Saturday, said the people will just have to see the races and convince themselves that they have the best entry list that has ever appeared here.

Aut Swenson, publicity director of the Jole Chitwood troupe, who was here Friday night, said White has nothing on Chitwood. "I have been coming here for years and I finally landed with the greatest thrill show in the world. Chitwood is like White, and expects to put on a show which will result in a demand for contract for 1950."

TONIGHT is the big night in Ban Johnson baseball for the Central Missouri league. Moberly Miners and the Sedalia Chiefs clash at Liberty Park at 8 o'clock tonight for the second half championship, and what a fight this is going to be. Moberly is determined to make an all-season sweep, having won the first half, and is anxious to whip the Chiefs to be undisputed.

Cal Rodgers, who with Sedalia merchants, sponsors the Chiefs, said Saturday, "We expect to come through and win the second half." Rodgers even went so far as to predict the Chiefs would take the play-off series later in the month.

Anyway, regardless of what either manager says about his team, baseball fans will see one of the hottest diamond contests of the season at the park tonight.

Quarter-Finals At Country Club

All quarter-final matches in the Sedalia Country club championship tournament will be finished today, and the semi-finals will get underway this week to be finished next Sunday.

One match in the top flight was played Saturday — Dick Gorrell taking an edge over Jud Grayson. The other three matches to be played today are as follows: Alan Tayse, defending champion, vs. Damon Hieronymus; Jim Darr vs. John Van Dyne; and Charlie Patterson vs. Harold Yunker.

Matches not yet played in the A, B, and special flights will also be completed today.

Plans are now underway and many members working on the Professional-Amateur tournament, to be played here September 19. Pros from Kansas City, Springfield, and St. Louis are being contacted for this tourney.

America Wins Walker Cup

MAMARONECK, N. Y., Aug. 20

(AP)—Great Britain's well-laid plans for reclaiming the Walker Cup were buried today under an avalanche of American pars and birdies on Winded Foot's sunny fairways.

The "best team Britain ever put together" went down by a final score of 10-2 as it managed to salvage only one victory in today's eight concluding singles matches. The one-sided triumph was America's 11th in the 12 times the amateur event has been played since 1922.

The two-day international test of skill between the two great golf-playing nations saw only one of the invaders, a balding young Englishman named Ronnie White, stand up against the ruthless efficiency of this country's sharpshooters. But for him, it would have been a complete rout.

Merchants Lose In Tournament

The Sedalia Merchants were defeated in the second round of tournament play at Marshall, Thursday night, 6 to 4, by the Emma Merchants.

The Sedalia aggregation still has a chance in the tourney, since it is a two game elimination. The Merchants play again at 10:00 o'clock Monday night, the opponent not yet determined.

Emma started the scoring with three runs in the first inning. Sedalia scored a run in the fourth and picked up three additional runs in the fifth, on hits by Fin-nell, Evans, and a home run by Norman Thompson, his second homer in two tourney games.

Emma was handcuffed from the first inning by the hurling of Darr until the top of the seventh when two hits, a walk and an error gave the Emma team three runs.

Darr gave up five hits and struck out six, but errors on the part of the Sedalia mates kept him in trouble. Simon was Darr's battery mate. Lynn and W. Schelp formed the battery for Emma.

Junior Blues To Play K. C. Today

The Junior Blues of the Boys League will play the H. E. Miller Motors of Kansas City this afternoon at Housel park at 2:30 o'clock.

Miller Motors won the North Junior Division championship in Kansas City and have a record of 16 wins and no defeats. Bob Calbert will probably be the starting pitcher for Kansas City. He has won 14 and lost none.

The Junior Blues lead the Boys League with 15 wins and two defeats. These two teams will tangle in what should be an interesting game.

Manager Bill Watson of the Blues states he will use this probable lineup:

Higgins 1b, Thomas 2b, Vaught 3b, Fisher lf, Lane rf, Watson cf, Wall or Bennett ss, Lees c, and Walter or Wall p.

Manager Estes of Miller Motors will use an all-star selection out of various teams in K. C.

Tickets Sold Out For Card-Dodger Games

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20 — (AP) — Hot-cakes don't sell nearly as well as tickets to Brooklyn Dodger-St. Louis Cardinal games, Redbird officials have decided.

They announced today that there are no more reserved seats left for the night game of Sept. 22 at Sportsman's park. Seats for the game the night before were sold out a week ago.

There still are some for the afternoon game between the two clubs on the 21st, however.

And for those who want to take their chances 7,000 general ad-mission seats will go on sale the day of each game as usual.

B-J Title Game Here Tonight

Imhauser To Pitch Against Moberly For Second Half Title In Central Missouri

Tonight is the night—8:00 o'clock the time—for the most important baseball game in Sedalia this year.

The Sedalia Chiefs will meet the Moberly Miners for the championship of the second half of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league season. The Chiefs will send their ace right-hand hurler, Joe Imhauser, to the mound in this all-important contest. Moberly will use their star left-hander, Scheiner, in an effort to grab the championship for the year, after winning the first half title.

3-Game Playoff If Chiefs Win

If the Chiefs remain true to their second-half form and win tonight, they will meet Moberly in a three-game playoff for the championship of the year. The first game would be played at Moberly next Sunday, with the second contest here on the following Tuesday.

Both teams have a record of ten wins and one loss going into tonight's game. Sedalia's only defeat came at the hands of Moberly 2 to 1, in a heart-breaking loss after two Sedalia pitchers combined their talents for a futility no-hitter. Moberly's only loss was to Mexico, 6 to 3. Sedalia defeated the Mexico club, 3 to 1, when they met.

Starting Lineup

The Chiefs' starting lineup for tonight: R. Waters first base, Vilmer second base, Hawley short-stop, May third base, Dillard left field, J. Waters center field, Schweitzer right field, Barbour catch, and Imhauser pitch. The five former Junior Legion players who now play with the Chiefs are not eligible because they joined the team after August 4.

Imhauser has an outstanding record. He has won 10 games out of 12 this season, including his last eight consecutive starts.

In 137½ innings, he has held the opposition scoreless in 113, allowed only 79 hits and 41 runs, and struck out 192 of the 604 men he faced. His good control is revealed by the fact that he has hit only 10 batters and walked only 42 in the 17 games he has worked.

Faced Moberly Twice

He has faced Moberly twice this year, both times in the first half of the season. In May, he pitched four innings after relieving "Duck" Eschbacher. He was not in form that night, and lost 7 to 5, with Scheiner the winner. He allowed seven hits and seven runs, walked seven, and fanned only five. On June 9 he lost a tough four-hitter to Jesse James, 2 to 1. He fanned 14 batters and walked three in that squeeze-out defeat.

Tonight's game had been scheduled for Friday night, but V. W. Meinert, president of the league, allowed the postponement in order to give the Moberly pitching staff a rest after a 'tough schedule' the past week.

All past records seem to indicate a first class game tonight, with the championship riding on every pitch and play. The Chiefs are in top condition, and it has been predicted that this most important game will also be the best for Sedalia.

THEY'VE GOT TO BE GREAT!

Just plain "good" isn't good enough..

For the past eight years we have been itching to introduce our slam-bang brand of championship big car auto racing to Missouri State Fair fans.

Now, thanks to Secretary Roy S. Kemper, we have this chance.

We go to bat Sunday afternoon—today. Time trials, 1:30 - First race, 2:30.

And if you think we're going to muff this opportunity, you're plum wrong. Come out to the State Fair this afternoon and see some really great auto racing.

Sincerely,

Gaylord White

The Sedalia Camera Club Snapshot Contest Winners

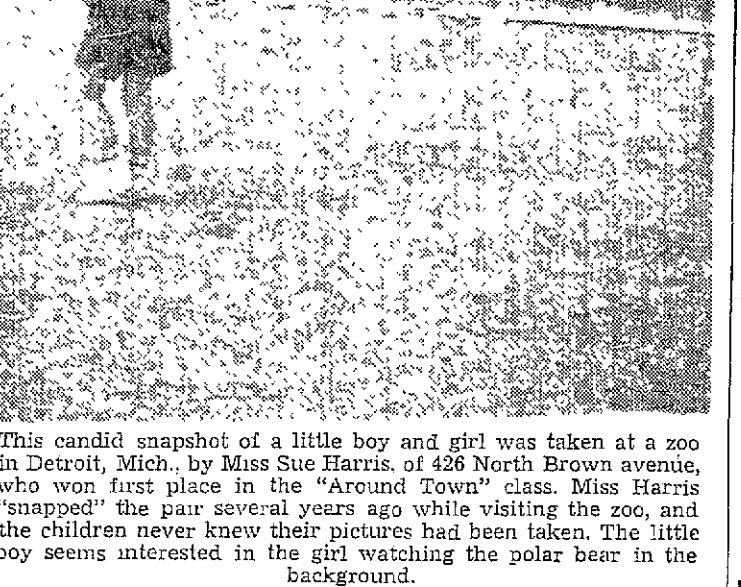

This artistic picture placed first in the "Unusual Pictures" division. It was taken by Richard L. Pryor, of route 2, Hughes-ville, last winter at the California Institute of Technology, Passa-dena, Calif., where he was a student. The long passageway is lighted through an uninterrupted line of arches, which cast a line of shadows down the wall.

This picture of "Pals" won first place in the "Family Pictures" class for Mrs. Gene Bremer, of Smithton. The little girl is Reva Marie Bremer, Mrs. Bremer's niece, and the "pal" is Mike. The two were "snapped" last December in the back yard of the Bremer home.

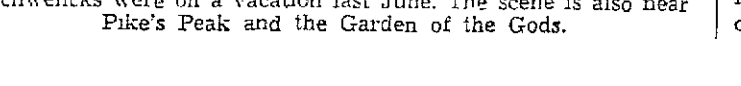

This candid snapshot of a little boy and girl was taken at a zoo in Detroit, Mich., by Miss Sue Harris, of 426 North Brown avenue, who won first place in the "Around Town" class. Miss Harris "snapped" the pair several years ago while visiting the zoo, and the children never knew their pictures had been taken. The little boy seems interested in the girl watching the polar bear in the background.

Of course we're sorry to see men like Harry Workhoven retire. But we're glad that, when they do leave our team, they begin to receive monthly checks—for life—under Standard Oil's employee retirement plan. Standard Oil began retirement payments in 1903; we were one of the first companies to have such a plan.
There are many other features of Standard Oil's employee benefit program: life insurance, group hospitalization and surgical operation insurance, sickness and disability benefits, and vacations. The security this program provides is an important reason why our employees find that Standard Oil is a good company to work for.

Find Aircraft Similar To Flying Saucers

Early Models Reported Found Near Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 20.—(P)—The Baltimore Sun last night quoted an Air Force officer as saying that two battered old aircraft found near here are—"definitely the prototype of the flying saucer."

The Sun quoted the Air Force official as saying that he believed greatly improved models of the two planes found in an abandoned barn are flying now, and are the source of the flying saucer reports of two years ago.

State police found the old machines, now largely a collection of junk, in the barn near Glen Burnie, about 11 miles south of Baltimore.

Their inventor, Johnathan E. Caldwell, dropped out of sight about 1941.

Authority For Statement
The official declined the use of his name, the Sun said, but declared Air Forces authorities had given him permission to make a statement concerning the Glen Burnie discovery.

The officer explained that the Air Forces uses the term "prototype," to denote the first model from which an airplane develops. The Sun then went on to quote him as saying,

"I, personally, think the inventor went to some other part of the country and that he—or someone else—developed new planes along these lines and is sending them up."

Advanced Development
An aircraft mechanic who worked with Caldwell on the strange craft back in 1936 and 1937 declared Caldwell was 10 years ahead of his times in developing the planes.

One of the planes had a small fuselage something like a conventional plane, with a rotating disc and propeller blades above it. The other looked like a big, round cheesebox. It had propellers above and below and seated four.

Caldwell made a splurge with them back in 1939 and 1940. The one with the disc made a demonstration hop in Washington, but crash landed.

RODE 1,560,000 MILES: NEVER LEFT TOWN—You'd think a railroad conductor who has traveled 1,560,000 miles in the past 50 years would have seen a lot of country. But not R. A. ("Buck") Ewing of Cleveland, O., left above. Ewing, a yard conductor for the New York Central, logged all his mileage in the yards of Greater Cleveland. In fact, during his 50 years of travel he never left town. Supt. W. H. Leany of Cleveland gives Ewing a gold pass in honor of his long service. The pass entitles him to ride anything that rolls on the Central. In the future the veteran conductor plans to get around a bit.

Legal Difficulties
Caldwell got into legal difficulties in Maryland, New Jersey and New York about the same time for selling stock in two corporations he set up to develop his inventions.

Two officers from the Air Force inspector general's special investigating staff brought about discovery of the old planes, now falling apart.

They had a tip Caldwell worked on the gadgets in the Glen Burnie area.

State police couldn't find Caldwell. They had a rough description of the farm and by process of elimination finally located the abandoned tobacco barn.

Woman Ends World Flight

LONDON, Aug. 20.—(P)—Miss Richarda (Dicki) Morrow-Tait, a red-haired ex-artists' model and mother, completed her single-engine plane ride around the world early Friday evening.

It took her a year and a day to fly the long way from London back to London—25,000 miles—but she is the first woman to guide the globe at the controls of an airplane.

The 26-year-old aviatrix set down her tiny silver Vultee two-seater at 6:40 p. m. GMT (1:40 p. m. EST).

With her was her navigator, Michael Townsend, 26, of Cambridge.

Her husband, Norman Morrow-Tait, an engineer living in Cambridge and doing the dishes and baby-sitting these last 366 days, rushed to Croydon airport to greet her. He took along their daughter, Anna, now nearly three years old.

The aviatrix looked tired but was full of plans to keep on flying. She told reporters at Croydon she is going to join the women's arm of the Royal Air Force.

"That's the only flying I intend to do from now on," she said. Asked if she would go on any more jaunts if someone put up the money, she replied: "Well, that's a different matter."

First, though, she's going to settle down for a while to housework at home in Cambridge.

Missouri Presents The 47th Annual State Fair

Many Interesting Displays at the Fair That Appeal To Women Folks

From a woman's viewpoint what are the most interesting things at the Missouri State Fair?

In this day of modern houses with all the conveniences of homemaking at their fingertips we feel that the most interesting thing at the fair this year is the realistic glimpse back into grandmother's day, or maybe great grandmother's day, of the little farm house of yesterday.

An old fashioned board walk leads up to the weather beaten and unpainted little house but about it are signs of family life and all that goes into making a home. You can almost see a young woman in calico, with her wash water heating in an iron kettle in the yard, as she scrubs her clothes on a washboard.

Colorful Flowers

In front of the house are colorful flowers, nasturtiums and tassel flowers growing in beds in the yard. On one side the sweet corn grows tall and pumpkin vines with yellow pumpkins run along the ground. On the other side are haystacks near the shed where the burro is kept. The well from which they carry water is covered with a cypress vine, bright with red blossoms. Small ducks swim in a pond and a banty rooster crows with pride.

Upon the roof walnuts and hickory nuts are drying for the winter and beside the house is the wood pile with the saw for sawing. On the porch a mirror hangs, below which is a shelf for father's comb and nearby hangs the wash pan and a bucket for the water sets upon a crude old wooden bench. A yellowed piece of cardboard keeps out the cold of winter from a broken window pane.

Bread Bowls

Two huge shallow bowls for making bread are on the porch, a bird cake swings slightly in the breeze and growing plants bloom gaily in tin cans. The deer horn hat rack, and the old time churn, the dinner bell that calls the men to meals, a gravel wagon standing in the yard filled with petunias of almost every shade. Then when the night comes on the parlor lamp is lighted and through the window shines the glow inside of peace, contentment and the joy of living.

Food Display

Interesting to women, too, are the cans of food in perfect shapes and natural colors. The cakes, the pies, the cookies that have taken blue, red and white ribbons. The quilts and fancy work, all things that other women make they like to see.

The Woman's Building, popular always with the women, where they may rest and meet their many friends. A place to leave the children, too, in capable hands, while mother leisurely takes in the fair.

The women love the music contest, too, particularly if junior or sister is competing. The baby contest and the nine point health program. They like to wander through the Educational Building

Fine Exhibits and Entertainment Of High Class To Make All Happy

By Herbert F. Rice
Director of Publicity

State Fairs have been coming and going at Sedalia for, lo, these many years now—since 1901, to be exact—so the forty-seventh exposition which opens today certainly will be no novelty to the good people of the Queen City of the Prairies and Pettis county. Yet, each succeeding session of the fair is opened with an increased spirit of enthusiasm and pride on the part of the local citizenry, as well as keener interest among Missourians as a whole.

It truthfully has been said that there is no such thing as standing still. An individual or an institution, either progresses or it retrogrades. Obviously, there has been no retrogression in the multifarious project that is the Missouri State Fair, for each succeeding year finds it covering a wider scope of service, with patrons and participants coming from an ever-increasing territory.

Exceed Others Many Ways

It is quite trite to say that this fair or that one is the "biggest on record," or the "best ever held," so any superlative description of this year's state fair doesn't mean much. There never is any great change in the general pattern of a fair, so it is idle to tell the public that it has any great novelties in store. But there are a great many indications by which we safely can assume that the fair which opens today will eclipse all others here in more ways than one. First, there have been more entries—two to one, in some cases, in livestock entries; second, entries are coming in from a wider territory; third, more money has been posted as premiums in most departments; fourth, advance ticket sales have been greater than ever before. Surely, all these things would indicate that more people will participate in the fair and more people want to see it.

"When you see one fair, you've seen 'em all," folks say, and to a certain extent that is true. But the point is that a good fair is made up of so many enduring, interesting and worthwhile things that one wants to see them again. One never tires of seeing a cherished friend again and again, or of visiting happy scenes over and over, or of hearing the same favorite tunes at intervals, or of reading the same good book from time to time. Things that are worthwhile, things that are inspirational, things that are entertaining never grow old and that's why the State Fair always is new and appealing; it is made up of myriads of features which never stale. There is so great a variety of products, exhibits and attractions on the fairgrounds that it is doubtful whether the most inveterate fairgoer ever has seen all of them.

Agriculture Paramount

Basically, of course, the fair is

Fair Time In Missouri

The Missouri State Fair is a glorious show

Of things that folks do and things that they grow;

The blue ribbon stock, the horses that pace,

The tingle and throb of each thrilling race;

The cakes and the pies we wish we could sample,

The ham and the honey of which there is ample;

Exhibits of schools, of art and of flowers;

The State Highway Garden where we could spend hours;

The aerial acts that just take our breath

The daredevils stunts flirting with death,

The midway with girl shows, midgets and freaks,

And rides that bring laughter along with the shrieks;

The uniformed bands of young boys and girls

As the majorette struts her bright baton twirls;

The friends that we meet in that great sea of faces

Of all kinds of people from so many places;

The barker's loud voice a-selling his wares,

The "Guess-Your-Weight" fellow who makes all the fairs;

The pink cotton candy, the hats and balloons,

Tired folks on the ground in the mid afternoons,

Two kinds of hot dogs, the kind that you eat

And the kind in your shoes that are often called feet;

Then you see someone near you who is taking a snooze;

And you want to sit down and take off your shoes;

It's a wonderful thing to do as you please

To take in the fair in real comfort and ease;

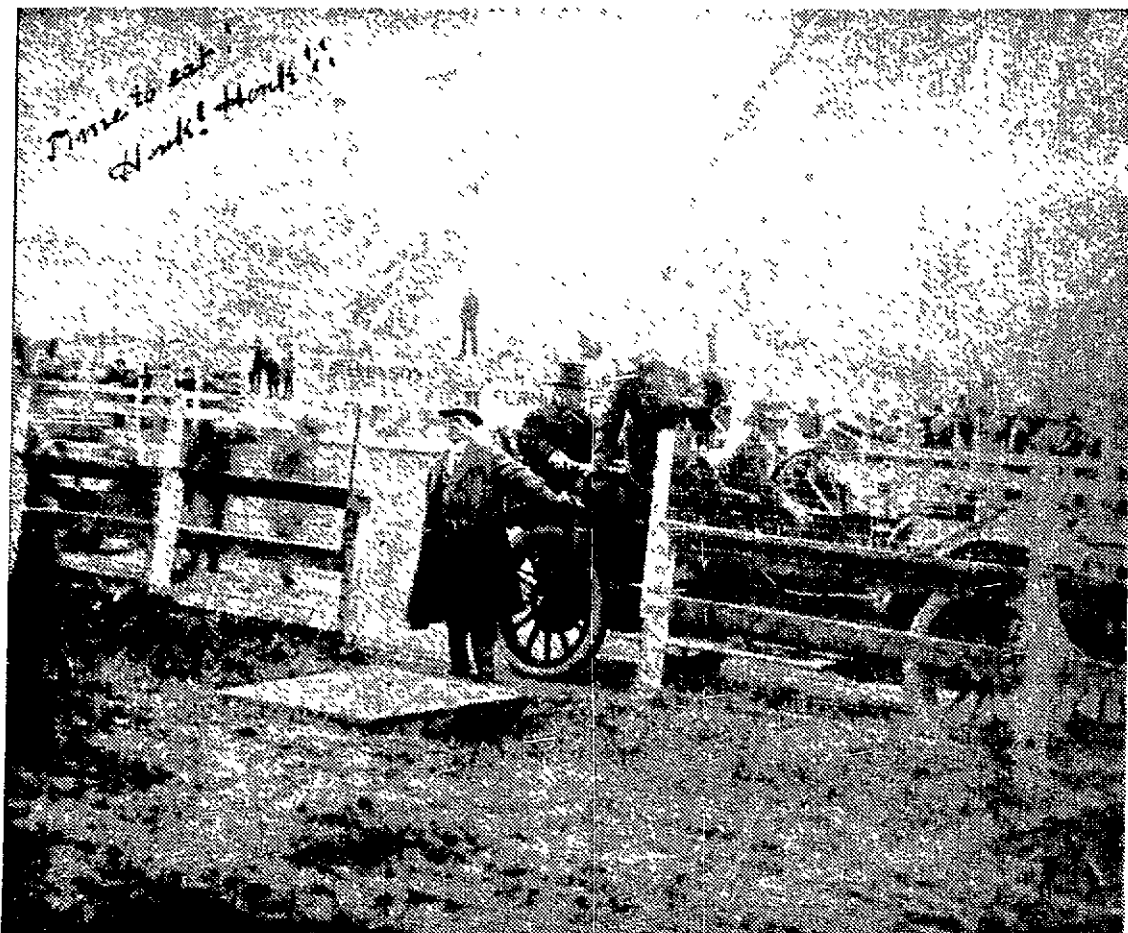

From one end to the other of the fair do we roam

And we will admit we are glad to get home;

But don't think we'd miss it, we're always right there,

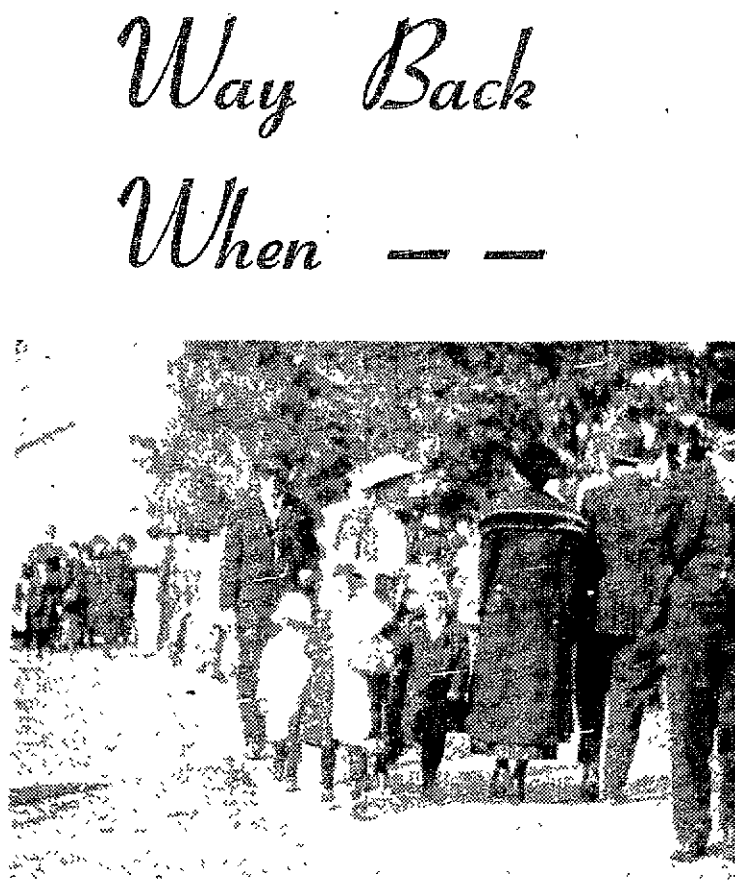

'Cause we're part of the people who help make a fair.

Hazel N. Lang.

President Taft Sees The Fair

During the late President William Howard Taft's visit to the Missouri State Fair in 1911, he was taken for a ride in a 1911 touring Rambler modeled car. The automobile was owned by the late E. G. Cassidy, father of Mrs. John McGrath and grandfather of John J. McGrath, one of the officers of the Sedalia Bank and Trust company, 111 West Third street.

They Wore Coats to the Fair

Back in the good old days when the Missouri State Fair was in the latter part of September or early October and the children who lived in Sedalia were the luckiest in the state, they got off a whole week from school because of the fair.

President Taft Admires Mules

President William Howard Taft was a Missouri State Fair visitor in 1911. The late president can be seen with his silk top hat, admiring a pair of mules being held by their owner, Lee Feaster, who is now deputy sheriff of Pettis county.

agricultural and that is as it should be. This is the very heart of American agriculture, Missouri grows more varieties and types of crops and livestock than any other state in paying quantities and every bit of our economic structure in this section is founded upon the products of the soil and upon the labor of country men and women. The fair, I should say, is the perfect example of the correlation and coordination of agriculture, industry, capital, labor, education and amusement. Those are the pillars of a solid and well-balanced state.

Numerous Departments
Your State Fair is made up of no less than twenty-six major departments, as follows: Speed, Draft Horses, Light Horses, Jacks, Jennets and Mules, Beef Cattle, Dairy Cattle, Swine, Sheep, Dairy Goats, Junior Activities, Stock Judging, Poultry and Rabbits, Apiary, Dairy Products, Agriculture, Horticulture, Floriculture, Home Economics, Fine Arts, Music, Educational, Health, Philatelic, Archaeological, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Think of the vast number of human activities and accomplishments that are embraced in that list! It doesn't seem that much has been left out, does it?

Many Like Thrills

It depends upon your intellectual capacity and your breadth of interest and knowledge, as well as upon your background, just how much you enjoy a trip to the State Fair. Some visitors go to the fair only in the suppressed hope of seeing some daredevil killed in a racing automobile and are ready to go home the minute the last race is run, some are lured only by the blarney music of the midway, the solicitations of the show-barkers and the wriggling of the hootchy-kootchy girls; many are so mechanically-minded that they see only the vast mazes of machinery and get no farther, others would count the day a dead loss if they failed to see a good horse show, while still others spend all their time among the hogs, sheep or cattle. There are many who attend solely for social reasons, hoping to see and visit with old friends of other days from remoter sections of the state. But you must have a versatile mind really to get your full money's worth at the State Fair.

If one is a philosopher, or a dreamer, one can make a great deal out of a fair. When I go to a fair and see the gorgeous saddle horses and roadsters, I see the generations and generations of men who have ridden and driven horses on farms, upon the prairies, on country roads and in wars; I see the innumerable types and breeds of horses that have been fused over a period of centuries into these superb animals and I see the good old Kentucky pioneers that first brought them to my beloved state. I think of the long days and weeks and months and the highly specialized knowledge that men labored to bring these creatures to their high degree of style and good manners.

Machinery Display
When I come to the great assortment of modern farming machinery, I don't see just steel and paint and internal-combustion engines; I see millions of men and women who have striven to eke out a living by grubbing in the earth with crooked sticks, with flint hoes, with wooden-mould-

State Fair in The Olden Days

One of the big thrills of the Missouri State Fair back in the days of sweeping skirts and tight trousers was sitting on the grass eating dinner out of a shoe box or picnic basket. But the unscreened stands did all right, too, with hamburgers and orangeade.

board plows pulled by tedious oxen, I think of the multitudes who have been liberated from back-breaking labor.

Livestock Excellent

In the swine pavilion—a mighty snazzy name for a hog barn—I admire the ponderous porcine beauties, some weighing more than half a ton each and so fat they are practically inert, and I think of the wild ferocious, long-snouted, lean and bony wild hogs, which once ran rampant in the forests and thickets of over continent and from which these sleek, modern porkers were developed. It represents a fabulous feat of human persistence and ingenuity.

The fat, pampered sheep and cattle I see here incline my mind's eye all the way back to the days of ancient Asia and Egypt, when men tended their small flocks and herds on the arid plains and in the lush bottoms of the Nile and the Euphrates, buying, selling and swapping on market days in towns and cities now buried and crumbled to dust these many, many centuries. I wonder what one of these ancient headsmen would have thought of our pedigreed animals today, or what a 1949 Missouri stockman or 4-H boy would do if suddenly he were transported back to the sparse acres of Persia 2000 years B. C.

When I come to the Department of Junior Activities and find dozens of red-blooded, healthy, alert boys and girls importantly feeding and primping their livestock, I have the conviction that there can't be much wrong with the country so long as we raise a generation of youngsters like these. My memory flashes back to the time I peddled corncocks at five cents a sackful and sold old rubber to raise $3 to buy a bull calf and of the first pig I ever had for my very own—it was a red one and cost me a dollar and somebody stole it the first night. I can feel the pride that swells in the breasts of these kids and I think of how often one of them has grabbed the old lantern and gone out to the barn before bedtime to see if that pet calf or lamb was properly bedded and put away for the night.

When I behold the mouth-watering display of country-hams and sides of bacon, I see the old smokehouse, with cracks between the boards to let in plenty of natural air, that stands in the backyard of every self-sufficient Missouri farm. I can smell, as distinctly as if it were a reality, the pungent hickory on a wintry day, can hear the crack of the farmer's rifle and hear the squeal of a doomed hog.

As I view the hundreds of jars of perfectly-packed fruits and vegetables, I can see the farmer and his family in the garden, hoeing, plowing and weeding over a period of many weeks; I see the farmwife working and perspiring for hours over a hot stove to put the products of garden and orchard into jars for winter use and for display at the fair.

As I admire the exquisite quilts and needlecraft, I think of the patient and tedious toil that some thrifty and busy woman put into this charming work of domestic art.

Music Leading Feature

When I listen to the violin and piano contests, or hear the high school bands knocking off a Sousa march as they step confidently down the street, I think of how many times Junior had to practice his music lesson when he would have preferred to go swimming or play ball, of how much his instrument and his lessons must have cost his self-sacrificing parents and of how terribly often Mary's dainty little hands have run clumsily over rudimentary scales before she learned to play such delightful little tunes.

And that's what all a Fair means to me. A fair represents work, it represents devotion, it represents confidence, persistence and intelligent effort; it represents pride and practice and progress.

The State Fair exemplifies a lot of work on the part of the management, too, for ever since the last day of last year's Fair, Secretary Roy S. Kemper and his staff have been busy negotiating hundreds of contracts, handling thousands of entries and arranging a million other details in preparation for this year's session. Commissioner Robert T. Thornburg of the Department of Agriculture, too, has devoted much time to the project since his elevation to

They like to visit the art exhibit, where pictures of charcoal, water colors and oil hang on the wall. They like to see antiques and the stamp collections and always like the show of all the flowers. Thursday particularly is the flower day with garden club members from everywhere gathering in the beautiful highway gardens, a favorite spot, to hold their annual luncheon.

Many women like to attend the horse shows, they are horse lovers and sometimes get the thrill of participating. When we get to thinking about what women like about a fair, there doesn't seem to be any place to stop—women just like fairs.

So, this year, truly, is about the biggest fair that Missourians have had a chance to see within the borders of their own state. The greatest lift the Missouri Fair has had in many years was its admission to the Grand Circuit of harness racing, an exclusive association of only fourteen of the most prominent race tracks in the nation. Only the world's fastest Standardbreds now will be seen in Sedalia, and there will be five days of pacing and trotting races for purses totaling around $100,000. That's something strictly different in Sedalia.

The night horse shows, Sunday through Friday, will be of a type not excelled for quality anywhere in the United States. Entries are heavy and the quality is of the highest. A special act is beautiful Bonnie Steele, with two wonderful dressage horses. The mule show, based on entries, will be the greatest ever held here or anywhere else. Little Mo, the smallest grown mule alive, will be there, too.

As for cattle, sheep, hogs and goats—well, you'd better come and see for yourself, for you wouldn't believe me if I told you how many there are this year or how good they are. The same applies to poultry of all kinds and there is a brand-new department for rabbits, since rabbits are grown commercially on a large scale in Mis-

Such Good Looking Pastry

Looking over the cakes and pies that won ribbons at the Missouri State Fair some time in the past. You can almost hear the comments as the women peer in the glass cases. Some wishing they could make such cakes, others believing that they could bake better cakes and not half try, but who never take time to enter the contest and win ribbons, that is, win the ribbons, if they could.

souri now. You'll want to see this new feature.

County Exhibits

In the county exhibits, school exhibits, floriculture, horticulture and agriculture divisions, art and archeological departments and such, they're all a lot like last year, only bigger and better. I could ramble on for hours about the familiar and popular features, but they'll mean more to you if you come out and see for yourself.

It wouldn't be a fair without sideshows, freak shows, girl shows, motorbomes, merry-go-rounds, Ferris wheels and the like, so the biggest carnival on earth, the Johnny J. Jones Exposition, was booked for the midway. It is colossal and superb; moderate-priced, too.

In front of the grandstand for five nights, Ernie Young, nationally-known showman, brings you the gorgeous and diversified State Fair Revue, made up of acts and musical numbers and pretty girls that would do justice to the most elite stage in New York. In fact, that's where Ernie gets his talent.

More than thirty high school bands will parade and play concerts and their music, for the first time at this fair, will be recorded.

Beautiful music will fill the air from early morning until after midnight.

Every acre, every building, every crack and cranny of the Fair grounds has been sprayed or fogged against flies and other insects that might carry germs and spread disease. The grounds and buildings are as clean and sanitary as human ingenuity and modern science can make them.

There will be plenty of food and health requirements are rigid. Drinking water will be pure and cold, as plenty of ice is available.

The State Highway Department at the Highway Gardens has one of the most attractive and ingenious creations ever assembled on anybody's fairground. You'll have to see it to appreciate it. It is entitled "Memories," with an old pioneer country home as the central item. There are all kinds of vehicles, too, including a stage-coach, a Conestoga wagon, an old surrey, primitive automobiles and other modes of transportation. Lay your cares aside for a few by our oldest residents. It is my prediction that this exhibit will be the hit of the entire fair and Floyd Sayers assembled it.

Running the Highway Gardens a close second will be the Conservation Commission's building, with all the popular standard offerings and some new ones. This appeals to people of all ages and classes.

Prices into and all over the grounds are moderate, there is plenty of parking space, lots of good shade and comfortable seats and benches, hundreds of beautiful flower beds, more than 200 acres of bluegrass, good roads, streets and sidewalks and fine lighting everywhere. Police protection is more than adequate and there is a good hospital with free doctors and nurses in constant attendance. In short, there is just about everything!

So that's the story of the incomparable 1949 Missouri State Fair, folks, the best that I can tell it. Lay your cares aside for a few days, get the kids ready, invite a neighbor or two and come out and have the time of your life, for in these parlous and uncertain days, you can't be sure when you might be able to do it again. We've worked long and hopefully to insure your comfort, your betterment and your happiness.

Two Decisions On Labor Laws By State Board

Hauling Autos And Union Shop Clause
Are Considered

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 20—(AP)—Hauling automobiles from the assembly plant to dealers is not a public utility under Missouri's utility anti-strike law, the State Mediation Board decided Friday.

Vance Julian, chairman, said the board reasoned contract truckers of automobiles are not utilities because a labor dispute involving them would not be a threat to the health and welfare of the general public.

The decision came in a case involving Associated Transport Co., Inc., Automobile Transport Co., Complete Auto Transit, Inc., and Local 604 of the Automobile Transport, Chauffeurs, Demonstrators and Helpers' union AFL, all of St. Louis.

Both the companies and the union had asked the board to hold it had no jurisdiction.

Public Hearing Sanctioned

In another decision today the board concluded that a union's request for a union shop clause is a proper subject for decision by a public hearing panel.

Ordinarily, Julian explained, a union can strike to back up its demand for a union shop. But a union in a public utility is barred by state law from striking. Therefore the board felt it was fair that the issue should be settled by a public hearing panel.

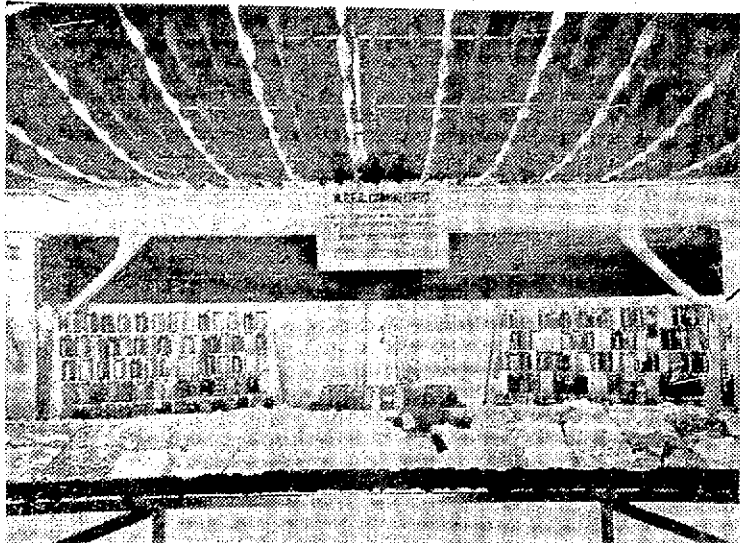

Such a panel includes one representative of the employer, one of the union and a third picked by the other two.

The question came up when local 2 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers AFL asked the Cuivre River Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Troy, Mo., for a union shop clause to replace a maintenance of membership clause in their contract.

The cooperative refused to grant a union shop and declined to submit the issue to voluntary arbitration.

Julian said the board's decision to set up a public hearing panel on the question is in line with recent Pennsylvania and New Jersey policies.

Have Canning Display

The W.P.F.A., of the Missouri Farmers Association has in its display under the grandstand at the Missouri State fair a fine assortment of canned fruits and vegetables that are entered in the canning contest.

44 Injured In Head-On Train Crash

Switchman's Error Sends Sister Train
Into A Siding

CANAAN, N. H., Aug. 20—(AP)—

A trainman's error switched a Montreal-bound Boston and Maine railroad express head-on into another express on a siding Friday. Forty-four persons were hurt, but none critically.

The collision involved sister trains—the northbound Ambassador out of Boston at 11:30 a. m. EST and the southbound Ambassador out of Montreal at 8:20 a. m.

Opened Switch

Grafton County Solicitor Robert A. Jones said the crash occurred when a trainman on the southbound express—standing on a siding here to wait for the northbound to pass on the single track—opened a switch at the south end of the siding and turned the northbound onto the already-occupied siding.

Jones identified the trainman as James J. Seymore of Hillsboro, N. H., baggageman on the south-bound Ambassador. The solicitor said Seymore told him he threw the switch but had no explanation for the accident. Jones said he would take no action tonight and would continue his investigation tomorrow.

Officials at Mary Hitchcock hospital, Hanover, said the injured mostly suffered bruises and some fractures. The crash wrecked a wooden milk car behind the northbound's diesel engine, smashed the southbound's diesel and telescoped some of its back vestibules.

Most of the injured were

Seize 'Brains' Of Drug Ring

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 — (AP)—Narcotics agents seized a ship's steward Friday and labeled him the "brains" of a huge illicit drug ring plying a $550,000-a-month cocaine trade between Peru and the U. S.

Authorities said that cracking the international ring here and in Peru has laid bare a fantastic story of political intrigue and plotted revolution, with control of Peru as the prize.

They said the steward's arrest is the first high point in the greatest government anti-drug smuggling drive in history. And the ring, an assistant U. S. attorney claimed, apparently has attempted to spread its operations to Italy through attempted contact with Charles (Lucky) Luciano, exiled one-time vice czar. The steward was identified as Eduardo Balarezo of Great North River, Long Island, a naturalized U. S. citizen of Peruvian descent, and sought by authorities for eight months. Balarezo, assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph P. Martin said, was arrested today aboard the liner Peru. LaGuardia, which runs between New York and Italian ports. He was held in $100,000 bail by U. S. Commissioner Edward McDonald on a charge of conspiracy to smuggle cocaine from Peru.

State Fair is And Always Has Been Lots of Fun

Getting the Missouri State Fair to locate in Sedalia meant a big fight, with Sedalia and Jefferson City at each other's throats.

An enactment of the 40th Missouri General Assembly in 1899 was passed however for the establishment and maintenance of the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia and Pettis county. The selection was made because of the central location, transportation facilities and convenience of entertaining thousands of visitors.

The first fair was held in 1901. "It wasn't much of a fair," one man said, "There were only a few frame buildings and the grounds were muddy."

Shuttle Trains

Transportation to the fairgrounds was by the shuttle train on the M. K. T. railroad. The station platform was filled with fair visitors and hometown people in gay holiday spirit as they waited for the shuttle train. The fare was 15 cents a round trip and a few years later it went up to ten cents each way. The ride on the shuttle was part of the fun of going to the fair as the train wound its way around the south part of the city and lets its passengers off on the south side of the fairgrounds.

Everybody didn't go to the fair by shuttle train, however. There were buggies, surreys and wagons.

In 1904 a disastrous fire wiped out for the large frame buildings, which resulted in the construction of fireproof and permanent buildings and this building program has continued through the years. Additional ground has also been purchased.

Ups and Downs

The history of the institution has been filled with ups and downs with severe wet spells during the exhibition and bad douths with wind and electrical storms tearing things up in general. But regardless of the weather the fair has continued to grow.

People look back on their childhood and youth at the fair and laugh. Everybody remembers certain things that happened when they were "kids" at the fair. They remember the thrills of the dozens of things that were given away and of going home loaded down with fans, yardsticks, samples of food, soap or some other product. They remember visiting the educational building and pointing with pride at something of their own on exhibit, a bit of writing, a crayon drawing, woodwork or fancy work. They remember the excitement of the races, the midway and how they tried to win dolls. They remember the hamburgers and orange ade, the lunches they took from home in a shoe box, how they sat down on the ground to eat and practically every youngster who ever went to the fair remembers going home broke.

Had Pictures Taken

Some women recently recalled how they went to the fair, three of them, and decided to have their picture taken. The picture was a tintype and when they went to pay for them with their collective small change they lacked three cents of having enough. They gave the man all they had and he told them they owed him three cents. Three little girls looked at him bewildered. They had the pictures but they didn't have the three cents. "You'll be coming out again this week," the man said, to which the little girls replied: "Oh, yes sir," and scurried off with their pictures. The little girls knew well enough they wouldn't be able to go to the fair again that year and no doubt a man taking pictures got a laugh that was worth the three cents over the frightened youngsters.

No Ill Effects

Another woman recalls how she and a girl friend went out to the fair with $1.50 each, got a ride out there, got it free, one boy took them to the midway shows, and someone else bought their dinner, yet when they started home one of them had to borrow enough money for street car fare. They had not one souvenir to show for it, they had spent it for hamburgers, ice cream cones, soda-pop and anything else they saw to eat. The miracle was that neither suffered any ill effects, for things in those days were cheap. Everything just a nickel. A $1.50 was a lot of money.

MORE

The stands then were little open air numbers that were enjoyed by the flies as well as the fair visitors. For many years Ewen Neighbors, father of Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors had a stand at the fair. His orangeade and hamburgers were never excelled and he was always a part of the fair.

Street Cars Installed

After the fair was permanently located a street car track was built that went out Sixteenth street, circled Limit to Third and returned to town. The street car stopped on the north side of the fair grounds and there was a long walk up past the Coliseum, the Woman's building and on the main part of the fairgrounds. The cars were called summer cars and were open air affairs with long seats across and steps on each side the length of the car. People crowded on them filling the seats and standing on the steps. As the cars sped along at a pretty fast clip the breeze swept through, giving a grand sensation but blowing everybody to pieces. One young woman with her gentleman friend as they called them, then didn't seem to have gotten her hat securely pinned on with the long gold hat pins, for suddenly there came a strong puff of wind and off came the hat, sailing out of the car and down the street. What to do was the question, but the young man rang the bell or pulled the cord or whatever they did to stop the car and got off to chase the hat, while the young woman continued on to town where she waited for her "beau" to come along on the next car with her hat.

Enjoy Working

Working in stands is always fun for the young people too. It gives such a nice opportunity to get acquainted with the beautiful girls and the handsome boys. One girl remembers trying to sell cookbooks at a stand. A funny, green looking boy came by and she made a special play. "Buy a cookbook for your wife," she said smilingly. "Ain't got no wife," he replied. "Buy it for your mother," she insisted. "Ain't got no mother," he answered. "Give it to your girl friend," she suggested. "Ain't got no girl friend," he said solemnly. In an effort to be funny the girl finally said: "Well buy it and give it to me." For the first time the boy grinned: "I will if you'll do my cooking," and that stopped her.

Plenty of Thrills

There are thrills a plenty for exhibitors, too, whether those ribbons are attached to a hog or quilt. One young mother, many years ago, was a real cake baker so she entered four cakes. When each cake won a blue ribbon to the money awards that went with them, she added a little and bought her husband and her three sons a signet ring, and with each ring she gave one of the blue ribbons.

If the fair is fun for the youngsters now it was twice as much fun a number of years ago. It was held in September or October instead of August and that meant the schools all closed for one solid week.

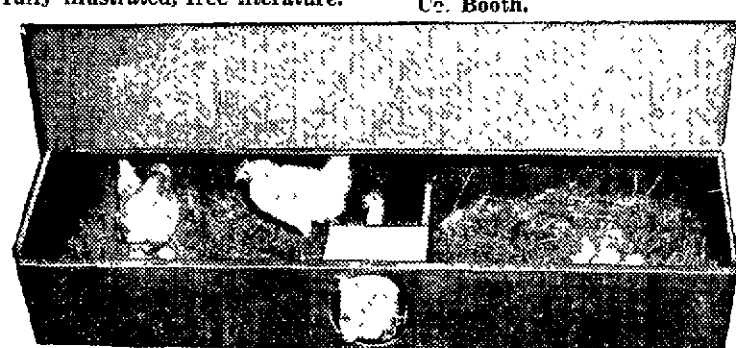

Yes the fair is fun. Whether you are young or old. Whether you attend in 1901 in sweeping skirts and sailor hat or last year perhaps in attire that would have shocked milady of yesterday or any years between, whether the man at your side was a gentleman friend or boy friend, the fair was fun. As a young man said the other day after a visit to the fairgrounds, "It just gets in my blood."

More Entries In Fine Arts Than Ever

Photo Division Has Exceptional Ones From Sedalia

There are more entries in the Fine Arts department this year than ever before according to Miss Ida Cruzan, who is in charge of the exhibit.

Two new classes have been added this year, art metal work and textile painting. Other classes include oil, water color and pastels in both the professional and amateur classes, commercial art, handicraft in which is included some nice tooled leather articles, photography and sculpture work.

In the building also are antiques and archaeological exhibits.

Included too is an exhibit from the sanatorium at Mt. Vernon of leather work and hand work.

The photography division has far more entries than ever and many of the pictures are really outstanding. In this class are entries from a number of Sedalia people and featured particularly are photographs of many Sedalia children.

A few Sedalia artists have entered in the oil and water color classes. Entries in these classes have come from all over the state with many from St. Louis and Kansas City. The Kansas City Art Institute has entered a number of pictures as has the Lincoln university at Jefferson City.

Miss Cruzan believes this is one of the best, if not the best and most complete exhibit ever presented by the Fine Arts department at the Missouri State Fair. She is being assisted this year by Miss Edyth Couey.

The Fine Arts building is located at the extreme south end of the fair grounds.

Exhibit to Show Health Dangers

The American Medical Association in cooperation with the Missouri State Medical Society, St. Louis, is presenting a health exhibit at the Missouri State Fair, August 20-29.

The exhibit, a contribution of the medical profession to better health, portrays the diseases transmitted to humans by the cow, horse, dog, cat, sheep, goat, pig, rat, wild animals and poultry and other birds. It also shows the insect vectors (carriers) of animal diseases.

This and similar exhibits of the American Medical Association enable the public to guard against many of the dangers of everyday life, thereby lessening the chance of disease.

History of Transportation In Highway Gardens

Starting with a group of old time pictures showing the muddy roads and the bad bridges of the early days the State Highway Department, under the direction of F. W. Sayers, maintenance engineer, presents in the Highway Garden at the Missouri State Fair this year the progress that has been made in road building since the first blazing of the trails west.

The exhibit is built around relics that have been found over Missouri most of which are almost extinct today, and starts with a scene of old skillets, a coffee pot and a coonskin cap. Then there is an old dead stump that resembles an animal on which is a sign, "Forced to Leave." Here the white man was run off by the Indians.

The highway sign system started back in 1739 with a three notches carved on trees ever so often to mark the trail. The first marker was soon after 1789 when the Spanish, through military necessity, were prompted to mark the trail "El Camino Real" from New Madrid to St. Louis.

The water of western springs were often marked (Poison Place) by men who wanted to keep the water hole for themselves but sometimes the sign was correct, the pool of water was poison. In the exhibit, too, is a replica of an old town pump of 1890, made of wood with wooden trough beneath the spout. Today the Highway Department marks the water by signs that read "Water Approved."

The first street car was run in St. Louis on July 4, 1838.

A hitching rack for horses over a hundred years old is on display. This hitching rack of wooden posts through which is run a heavy chain comes from St. Mary's where it was still in use. Then came the iron hitching posts and now what do we have? Parking meters.

An old time scene from the Old Arrow Rock Tavern shows a small old fashioned barrel stove that looks red hot. Beside it is an antique chair and an old spittoon, that was just comfortable spot for father back in 1830.

In 1892 came the high wheel bicycle which helped to bring back an interest in road building which seemed to die with the coming of the railroads.

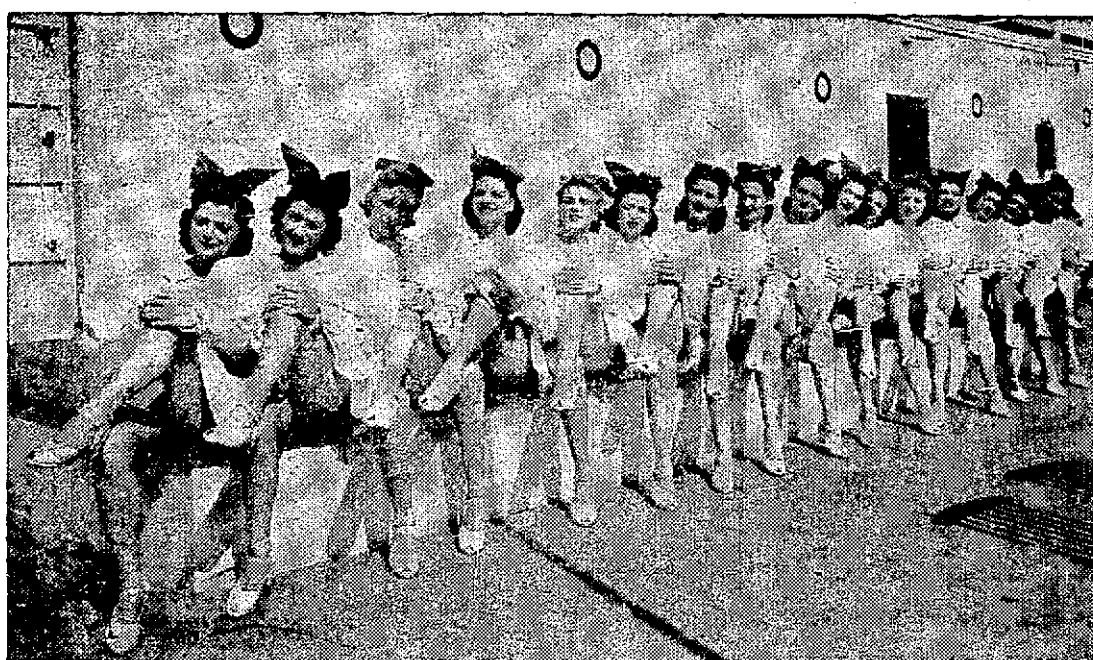

The road graders of wood were fine in dry weather but they didn't help the mud much when it rained.

In 1911 there was the good road movement in Missouri which was helped along by mail routes. The campaign for better roads for mail routes started in 1896.

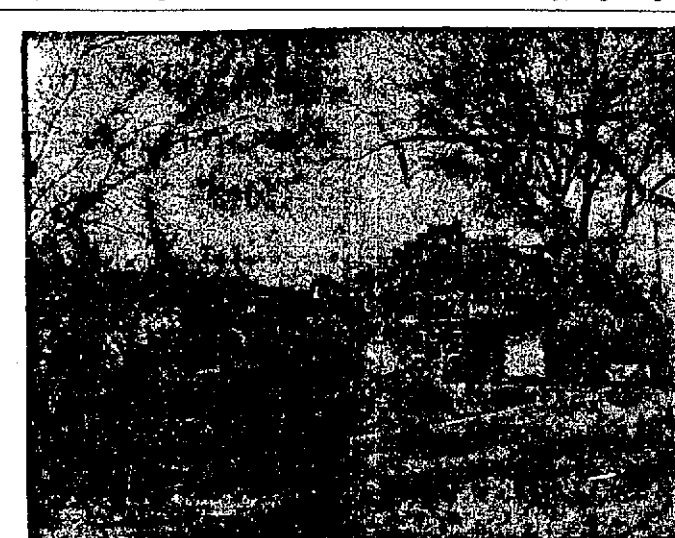

Then from the Daniel Boone country is an old surry with the fringe on top and lanterns on the side. It was used only on Sundays to go to church and on the seat is a high silk hat of that day also. Of horse drawn vehicles on display are a cart and a buckboard.

Last in the exhibit is the horseless carriage built by Sears Roebuck, and still runs good. But out in front are two more vehicles of travel. The old covered wagon and the Wells Fargo stage coach with three reaches and leather springs instead of conventional springs. It's date is 1820 and on the back

Ernie Young's Revue of 1949

The Blue Ribbon of Night Grandstand shows has been awarded to the Ernie Young State Fair Revue of 1949, which will be seen in front of the grandstand at the Missouri State Fair, for five nights, starting August 23. This production carries a company of almost 100 people including its own special band, two carloads of scenery, lighting effects and beautiful costumes.

Mule Barns on the north end of Main Street at the Missouri State Fair Grounds.

where luggage was carried are some old time trunks.

Behind the exhibit is the 90 foot pictorial scene from Kansas City to St. Louis which shows route 40, the old trails and the Santa Fe Trails to the Oregon Trail. Bison skulls and lanterns are on the front of the exhibit. The bison herds made the first trails.

An interesting exhibit at the entrance south of tent shows framed pictures and maps of the trails through Missouri from 1832 to the present time. Above the exhibit are pictures of Indian heads which fit in the history of Missouri from trails to roads to highways. On display also are license tags, the first made in 1903.

Mr. Sayers, also, has on exhibit some pottery that came from the Mound area, found in the grave of a Mound builder.

People who visit the Missouri State Fair every year spend a great deal of time in the show place of the fairgrounds, the Highway Gardens, but this year, with the interesting history of the state so vividly portrayed they will want to spend more time than ever in the gardens.

Johnny Jones Exposition In Full Swing

Rides and Shows Of All Types For Both Young and Old

The Johnny J. Jones Exposition, venerable monarch of the tented world, opened its gates at 6:00 o'clock last night to give fair patrons a preview, and is now in full swing for the regular eight-day run. It is making its first appearance here in 28 years.

The Johnny J. Jones midway presents an unusually bright appearance and offers an amazingly large collection of amusements designed for young and old alike. There are thrill rides for youth, more stately rides for the elderly, and an attractive set of miniatures for the children, with the shows offering a variety of the same suit.

Special Shows

Of chief interest is Allen Gilbert's New York Follies, Jerry Jackson's Hep Cats and Dick Best's World of Freaks. Each of these attractions are offered by men recognized as the peer of their particular field. Gilbert was producer and director of eight theaters in New York for the past decade and is making his first tour under canvas. His revue is typical of big city theatrical revues, complete with specialty dancers, comedians, singers and a precision chorus.

The Hep Cats, directed by the astute Jerry Jackson, offer a new type of colored minstrel, their routines running the gamut from African tribal dances to the sizzling rhythms of New Orleans' French quarter. Dick Best has combed the universe for unusual people in assembling his World of Freaks, and he features Grace McDaniels, the "mule-faced woman."

24 Rides, 25 Shows
The Johnny J. Jones lineup includes 24 riding devices and 25 tented shows. In order that State Fair patrons will have every opportunity to pay this great midway a complete visit, all shows and rides will be in operation past midnight each night and will be reopened at 9 a. m. each morning to accommodate the early arrivals on auto race day.

Advance Sales Break Records

Advance ticket sales for automobile races, harness races and grandstand shows at the Missouri State Fair here have eclipsed all previous records, it has been announced by Roy S. Kemper, secretary. Entries in livestock and other competitive classes, as well as the number of exhibits and concession sales, further indicate a record-breaking attendance this year.

THRILL DRIVERS. Sammy Lowrey, Patsy Williams and Joe Lowrey nonchalantly wave to their audience just before another whirlwind performance in the Motordrome at the Johnny J. Jones Exposition. Sammy and two assistants will climb walls, criss-cross and strain the speedometer in a motorcycle stunt act guaranteed to thrill any audience. It's all in a day's work in the Motordrome at the Johnny J. Jones Exposition which arrived here Saturday August 20 to participate in the Missouri State Fair.

Smallest Mule in The World at The Fair

Little Mo, smallest mule in the world and now on tour of the entire United States in the interest of the $5,000,000 Harry S. Truman Foundation at Independence, will spend the week of August 21-28 at the Missouri State Fair here, getting acquainted with Missouri, receiving the plaudits of the crowds and incidentally, raising money for the cause he represents. He will appear at all horse and mule shows and will be given a ribbon on Wednesday, Governor's and Kansas City Day, for being the smallest hybrid on the ground and for the conspicuous service he is doing in the interest of the Truman Foundation.

Little Mo is in the personal custody of Ed Gallinagh, representing Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence, president of the Truman Foundation. He is a perfect specimen of Missouri mule, except for size, and stands only 8 1/2 hands, or thirty-five and three-fourths inches high. His sire was a Guatemalan donkey and his mother a registered Shetland. He has begun a nation-wide tour to publicize the Truman Foundation which will set up a museum and historical library at Independence, the starting point of the Oregon, California and Santa Fe Trails, which will be commemorated by the foundation.

Any person who contributes a dollar or more to the foundation receives a gold, good-luck, mule-shoe pocket-piece. The foundation will be financed entirely by private and volunteer contributions.

My Memories' Theme Of Florists' Exhibit

"My Memories" is the theme used in the unusually attractive display of flower arrangements for all occasions presented this year in the Floriculture building at the south part of the fairground by the Missouri State Florists Association.

A tropical scene is featured in the center of the room near the door entrance, where is shown a grass covered hut, among palm trees in which are little monkeys. Surrounding the hut is tropical foliage, seaweed, sea moss and sea fans as well as weathered sea nets and various other things which may be found on a tropical beach.

To the right are flowers for the baby. A bassinet in which is a large doll representing the new baby. A bouquet of pink roses has tucked in it some small dolls and all about are clever little pottery vases and flower arrangements for the new arrival.

Then comes the first dress-up party for the little girl. A powder puff and lipstick, the first whims of her vanity. A flower arrangement is surrounded by cute little girl heads of china, each one wearing a perky little hat trimmed with real flowers.

A manikin in the form of a young girl is used for the queen of the flower festival or she might be the high school queen for any activity. Upon her head is a crown of flowers and her bouquet also is of fall flowers. Large floor standards hold large chrysanthemums.

A hospital bed is used to depict the sick room, where flower arrangements for the convalescent may be seen. These arrangements may be for men with cigarettes, cigars and other things for men among the posies. They may be for children with toys and books or they may be for women with little feminine gifts in the blossoms.

Next is a girl's first business venture, a little hat shop. Hat boxes are filled with flower arrangements and hats about the little shop have fresh flower trimmings.

Then comes Mother's Day. Here a manikin is used as a mother standing behind a table near her favorite chair looking at her unopened gifts. On the floor beside her chair is her knitting basket with yarn and knitting needles, which help form part of the flower arrangement in the basket.

Father's Day shows a desk with a box of fishing tackle in which there is a flower arrangement.

The Thanksgiving table is centered with a three tier copper bowl in which is an arrangement of fall fruit and chrysanthemums.

Then the Christmas scene with the happy little snowman on the mantel, with decorations of cedar and red carnations. Beside the mantel stands a decorated Christmas tree.

Next is the wedding scene with a manikin dressed as a bride standing in front of a white mantel on which is an arrangement of white gladioli. Forming a background for the bride are large white wedding bells made of net ruffles from which is festooned ropes of white silk cord. Beside the bride is a bride's table covered with white net ruffles entwined with smilax. On the table is a large decorated wedding cake on top of which is a corsage of real flowers. The bride's bouquet is of Stephanotis.

Then comes the new home which shows the living room with davenport, chairs and tables. A flower arrangement of red gladioli is on the coffee tables and on the end tables at either side of the davenport are containers with tropical foliage.

The last chapter in the flowers in a woman's life is the Golden Wedding. This is a formal setting in the dining room with an arrangement of yellow calla lilies forming the centerpiece for the table. Other flower arrangements in keeping with the anniversary are used about the room.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Missouri State Fair and the Missouri State Florists Association. Chairman of the show is George Curmutt, of the Archias Floral company in Sedalia and designer for the exhibit is W. Kent Scofield of the Paul Allen Flower Shop in Columbia. All local florists participate in the display with arrangements for all occasions at the various booths and all members of the Missouri Florists Association co-operate to make it an outstanding and worthwhile exhibit.

No Aim To Start A Fight

President Makes Plea in Address To VFW For Full Aid Amount

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 22—(AP)—President Truman pleaded today for fast approval of the full $1,450,000-000 arms aid program as "part of the price of peace."

He indirectly told critics of the plan in Congress—without calling any names—that peace with freedom and justice "can not be bought cheaply" in a world made uneasy by "Soviet pressure."

And he described the goal as prevention of aggression. "We are not arming ourselves and our friends to start a fight with anybody," the president said. "We are building our defenses so that we won't have to fight."

He spoke before the Golden Jubilee convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars after an 822-mile flight here from Washington in the Independence, the White House plane.

The president blamed Russian tactics in the United Nations and elsewhere for the need to arm friendly nations "to resist aggression."

Russia, the president declared, "has blocked every effort to establish an effective international police force and to free the world nations of forming regional defense pacts."

Efforts to Restore
Efforts of Senate leaders to restore $580,495,000 the House slashed last week from the $1,160,990,000 set aside for western Europe in the arms proposal were underway in Washington.

The president speaking in Dinner Key auditorium, condemned Communism for its "false" claim that it satisfies "the universal desire for a better life."

Instead, he said, it "lures men by false promises back to tyranny and slavery."

The president made no reference to the plight of Communist-controlled China. A new American policy concerning that country is in course of study at the State Department.

But, he said, the Philippines and Korea, the two young republics in the far east, "need military assistance if they are to maintain their national security."

Where Most To Go
While most of the aid sought in the arms program would go to Atlantic Treaty countries, he said the Philippines and Korea will share like others "whose security is important to world peace."

"We must continue our aid to Greece and Turkey," Mr. Truman said. "We should help Iran maintain its firm stand against the Soviet pressure."

Contrasting United States' efforts to aid other countries with those of Russia, the president cited U. S. support of the United Nations, and its aid to Greece and Turkey in 1947 which "preserved the integrity of both countries."

He said the Marshall plan recovery program prevented general collapse in Europe.

The president applauded the signing of the pact of Rio de Janeiro binding North and South America together in a defense alliance and compared this with the North Atlantic Defense Pact.

"The next task," he said, "is to back up this principle with military assistance to European nations, and to certain other nations, which are unable to build up their defenses without outside help."

He said the help would be extended in three forms (1) by aid

Quake of Great Intensity

WEST BROMWICH, Eng., Aug. 22—(AP)—A severe earthquake, probably centered at the eastern end of the Himalaya mountains, was recorded here today.

H. J. Shaw, West Bromwich seismologist, said the shocks began at 3:12 a.m. GMT (9:12 p.m. CST Sunday). They were so sharp they dislocated three instruments.

Severely Enormous
HARVARD, Mass., Aug. 22—(AP)—The Harvard university seismograph station reported an earthquake "ten times as severe as that which struck Ecuador August 5," occurred late last night. It probably originated 100 to 200 miles off shore in the vicinity of Vancouver island, in the Pacific, a seismologist said.

Prof. L. Don Leet placed the quake 2,500 miles from the Harvard station in a direction 30 degrees north of west.

He described the quake as one of the "largest of record in recent years."

Automobiles In Accidents Here Sunday

No Serious Injuries In Five Reported To The Police

Five automobile collisions occurring inside the city limits of Sedalia, since early Sunday morning, were reported to police. All persons involved in the collisions escaped injuries, except one woman, who received injuries to her neck.

The first accident occurred at Twelfth street and Ohio avenue, Sunday morning at 12:50 o'clock, when Lloyd Cordes of Sweet Springs, driving south on Ohio avenue in a 1946 Dodge sedan, struck a 1933 Chevrolet sedan, which was parked on the west side of Ohio avenue. The owner of the Chevrolet, Luther Chancellor, of Windsor, was not in the car at the time of collision.

The Dodge was demolished in front, and the rear end of the Chevrolet was caved in. Cordes was fined $10 in police court this morning on a charge of careless and reckless driving.

Three Cars in One
At 9:00 a. m. Sunday morning, three automobiles heading for the state fair were involved in rear-end collisions at Sixth street and Missouri avenue. Slight damage resulted to the automobiles, but Mrs. Rosa Bailey of New Boston, Mo., was taken to the Woodland hospital and treated for a neck injury. Persons figuring in the collisions were out-of-towners.

Five minutes later, four vehicles traveling west on Broadway, connected bumpers, when the first car in line of traffic stopped. Damages were not too extensive.

At 10:25 a. m., a Model-A Ford, driven by Bill Wooster, 718 East Seventeenth street, and a 1948 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Jackson Naylor of Salisbury, collided at Seventh street and Missouri avenue. Slight damage resulted to the two cars.

Slight damage resulted, when a 1941 Ford sedan, driven by Elmer J. Scholl, 1813 South Grand avenue, and a truck, driven by Joe Mullins, Sweet Springs, collided. Scholl was backing his car from the driveway when the collision happened.

Eldon Band at The Fair Today

The Eldon band, under the direction of Geraldine Haldiman, arrived on the Fair grounds early Monday afternoon and gave a concert on the south lawn of the Administration Building. Several majorettes accompanied the band and gave twirling exhibitions.

Beginning Tuesday and continuing through Friday a parade of all the bands playing on the Fair grounds will be held at 12:30 in the afternoon. The bands will march along the street bordering the grandstand. At 6:15 o'clock each evening a consolidated concert will be given on the lawn in front of the Administration Building. The directors of each of the bands participating will take their turns leading the various selections.

Wire recordings of these concerts are being made and from these recordings individual records will be cut and made available for those desiring them.

Wins $26,000 Jackpot, Still Does The Wash

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 22—(AP)—Mrs. Dorothe Pappentfort, the pretty 29-year-old brunette mother of two youngsters who won the $26,000 stop the music jackpot last night, was busy today—doing the family wash.

She was still pretty thrilled over the deluge of prizes and publicity that the two little words—"battered peas"—brought her when she answered a telephone call to identify the mystery tune of the American Broadcasting company program.

And she was still a little disappointed that the fabulous prize didn't include an electric washing machine and an automatic dishwasher.

"If you had children, you'd understand," she said.

The children are Robert William 2, and Ranne Jeanne, 4½. They were with their mother last night when the telephone call from the radio program came. So were their grandfather, Robert P. Pappentfort, who lives upstairs in the duplex house, and their uncle, Randall Pappentfort, of Kansas City.

Had to Act Quickly
It was Randall Pappentfort who found a copy of the Kansas City Star in record-breaking time to give his sister-in-law the $26,000 due after a warning call had come asking her to standby for the music call.

Mrs. Pappentfort had no word today about delivery of the prizes, and had made no plans for their acceptance or disposal. Acceptance of trips to Rio de Janeiro and Alaska—included in the prize list—will depend in part upon the children, she said. She and her husband, Carson Pappentfort, an engineer for the State Highway Department, have plans to take the younger child to a specialist in Kansas City soon for an examination which may lead to a brain operation. The child was injured in a fall a year ago.

The husband, who arrived home from an afternoon of golf in Jefferson City soon after his wife named the mystery tune, agreed that no immediate decision on some of the prizes is possible.

Registration at Sacred Heart

Sacred Heart grade and high school registration for the coming school year will be held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, according to an announcement made Sunday.

Both grade and high school students from Sedalia and surrounding communities may register either day between 8:00 o'clock in the morning and 6:00 in the evening, at the Sisters residence, 304 South Monticau avenue. The announcement stated that it was necessary for all students to be registered in order to get advance preparations completed for opening of the term in September.

Training For Guards Intensive

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Aug. 22—(AP)—Two weeks of intensive field training is under way here for National Guardsmen of the 35th division.

More than 10,000 guard members from units in Kansas and Missouri reached this post yesterday by train and truck. It is the largest post-war encampment of the division.

Making up the largest proportion of troops are infantry regiments from Eastern Missouri, Eastern Kansas and the St. Louis area.

The division is commanded by Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin.

Hurricane Off the Coast of Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 22—(AP)—A small Atlantic hurricane was centered about 500 miles due east of Miami today as President Truman winged toward the city to deliver an important address to the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention. The storm, first of the 1949 season, was referred to as "Harry's Hurricane" by storm trackers because of the coincidence of the chief executive's visit. Fine weather prevailed here, however, for Mr. Truman's appearance.

Rent Control Still Argued

Woods Declares That $17,500,000 Is Insufficient

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(AP)—The argument about rent control boiled up again for the senate today.

The specific question is whether to reconsider a $17,500,000 appropriation which the rent director, Tighe Woods, says is not enough to keep rent controls going at the present rate.

(Woods has said that if congress doesn't increase funds for his agency, he will have to lift controls from one-third of the areas still having them. Further, he says he may have to rely on volunteer citizen help to watch over controls in some of the two-thirds remaining.)

President Truman asked $26,750,000 to operate the office of housing expeditor during the year that began July 1. The senate cut this down to $21,667,500 but a senate-house conference wacked off another $4,167,500 to $17,500,000.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill), with the support of President Truman and others who favor rent controls, contend this amounts to making it impossible to enforce the rent ceilings and so, in effect, partially nullifying the law.

He has a motion pending to reconsider previous senate approval of the conference report. Vigorous debate, of undetermined length, was in store before a vote.

Those on the opposite side contend the $17,500,000 should be ample.

Tito is More Hostile With The Soviet

Definite Sign of A Growing Split In Communism

By the Associated Press

Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia drew surprise support from a crowd of German Communists today. This sign of the growing split in the ranks of world communism came as Yugoslavia's war of words with Russia reached a new pitch of intensity. A Russian note to Belgrade at the weekend threatened to take "effective measures" to protect Soviet citizens in Yugoslavia. Replaying, the Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba accused the Kremlin of using those citizens as spies.

British newspapers quickly noted the similarity between the stern tone of the Soviet note and the language used by Hitler before he sent the German army into action a decade ago. They said the Russian note sounded like the worst threat of war since 1939.

Typical was the comment of the London Daily Mail. It said the acute hostility between the Yugoslav and Russian governments "has reached such a pitch that outbreak of war would not be astonishing."

Much Space to Note
The concern of the Kremlin itself over its relations with Tito apparently was reflected in the Soviet press and radio, which devoted much space and time to foreign reactions to the Soviet note.

Half of Pravda's foreign news page was taken up with dispatches from abroad on the subject. Sample headlines in the official Soviet Communist party newspaper were:

"Tito's clique conducting secret negotiations with Vatican."

"Traitorous deal of the Tito clique with Greek monarchist-Fascists (Nationalists)."

Tito has been feuding with the Kremlin for more than a year. His government was thrown out of the Moscow-directed Cominform (Communist, International Information Bureau) for nationalistic deviations from what Russia regards as orthodox communism.

One of the Kremlin's fears is that Tito's show of national independence will spread to other eastern European countries in the Soviet sphere and to Communist parties elsewhere. This fear is shown by Moscow's insistence that Tito must bend a knee and admit his "mistakes."

Titoism now has taken root in Germany. German Communists who hate Russia formed a new splinter party today and promptly sent the Yugoslav leader a message of support.

The new organization described itself as a "free Communist party." It claimed 4,000 active members in the Russian zone of Germany and another 600 in the western sectors of Berlin.

Karl-Heinz Scholz, veteran German Communist underground campaigner, told a report in Berlin:

"We have formed to fight imperialist Bolshevism. The so-called internationalism of Soviet Russia is a fraud. We reject (Please turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Fair Attracted 63,800 on Opening Of 1949 Exposition

Debate is Held On Waterways

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(AP)—The House opened debate today on a $1,114,539,000 omnibus rivers and harbors and flood control authorization bill.

Action was delayed until tomorrow on a second bill. It would provide money for water project construction during the 12 months which began July 1.

Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) of the House public works committee said the bill involves projects all over the United States which are considered meritorious by the army engineers and should be made eligible for future appropriations.

On money for current construction, Senate and House conferees have been in disagreement since June 1. Before Easter, the House passed an appropriation bill allowing $593,292,220 for army civil functions, consisting mostly of funds for flood control and rivers and harbors projects of the army engineers. The Senate upped the amount to $751,440,690, adding dozens of new projects.

Talks on The British Crisis

Most Important To be Between Acheson and Bevin By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(AP)—Preliminary American - British talks on Britain's economic crisis will open here this week in an atmosphere of bitterness and gloom.

Americans officials said it would require some notable feats of statesmanship to prevent the conference from hurting instead of improving British-American relations. The conference will reach a climax early next month.

Among other things the British say they take a dim view of the appointment of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder to head up the American delegation for the main, second stage of the negotiations which will open Sept. 6 or 7. They say they would have preferred Secretary of State Acheson.

Cover Wide Range
State department officials counter this criticism by saying that Acheson and British foreign minister Bevin will in fact probably hold the most important of the conversations—covering the whole range of U. S. - British relations—entirely outside the economic negotiations. The latter will be conducted by Snyder and Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps.

To add to the confusion of this point, however, British officials here say that no preparations have been made for Acheson-Bevin discussions paralleling the Cripps-Snyder negotiations. The British say they doubt that the meetings will be planned to produce definite results.

Canada will be an interested third party at the talks.

Meanwhile, lower level American and British negotiators will open the preliminary round between the two countries next Saturday. Undersecretary of State James E. Webb has been named to head up the American group for this preparatory "exchange of views" as the diplomats call it.

Actually, the preliminary talks will be highly important. They will disclose what specific proposals the British have in mind to deal with their dollar and gold shortages and what measures the United States also is considering.

Children's Day is Observed With 9,000 Through the Gates by Noontime

A nice sunny but cool day brought to the Missouri State Fair, forty-seventh annual exposition, a record crowd for the opening day. It is a great exposition with more exhibits than ever before both commercial and domestic, plenty of entertainment is on the program for each day and night.

Officials of the State Fair, Robert Thornburg, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Roy S. Kemper, Secretary of the fair, were more than delighted with the opening day. Both were astounded with the attendance which, according to Kemper's figures were nearly 2,500 more than 1948.

It is the usual thing the fair officials like to see record breaking days, but when they actually occur, they join others in their own astonishment. Concessionaires likewise were a little surprised, they usually anticipate a good day, but with Sunday's business they were a little more than pleased.

Despite the talk money is getting tight there was no such indication, free spending at the commercial exhibits was noted. People were there to really enjoy themselves, and this they did.

Attendance 63,800

Mr. Kemper in discussing the figures of attendance stated at 5:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon 38,450 daily admissions had been through the gates. With the 500 exhibitors, 500 concessionaires, and 2,300 seasonal tickets, and 19,000 from 5 o'clock, and 2,300 cars, the attendance figure reached 63,800. In 1948 the attendance figure for the day including such tickets as above was 61,500.

Officially it is Children's Day at the fair but the Missouri Farmers Association itself declared it a day for the MFA. F. V. Hinkle, president of the MFA, predicted there would be at least 30,000 of his members and their families on the grounds today. Among the early arrivals were farmers who are members of the organization.

Up to noon today approximately 9,000 children had passed through the gates, an increase of 500 over the all-day attendance of Children's Day of 1948 when 8,500 were accounted for.

"Bawls" and Balloons

Starting about 9:00 o'clock this morning near one of the exhibits there was a "bawl and balloon minute." It seems the exhibitors was distributing free gas-filled balloons to the youngsters. Most usually the hand grip loosened on the string and up the balloon would go high into the air.

Just about the time the balloon reached 50-feet, the children would begin bawling and screaming to mother or father to get it. Pitiful as it was there were many laughs by the bystanders.

The exhibitors' supply of balloons was running low at noon, trying to stop the child from crying by giving away another one.

Horse Races Started

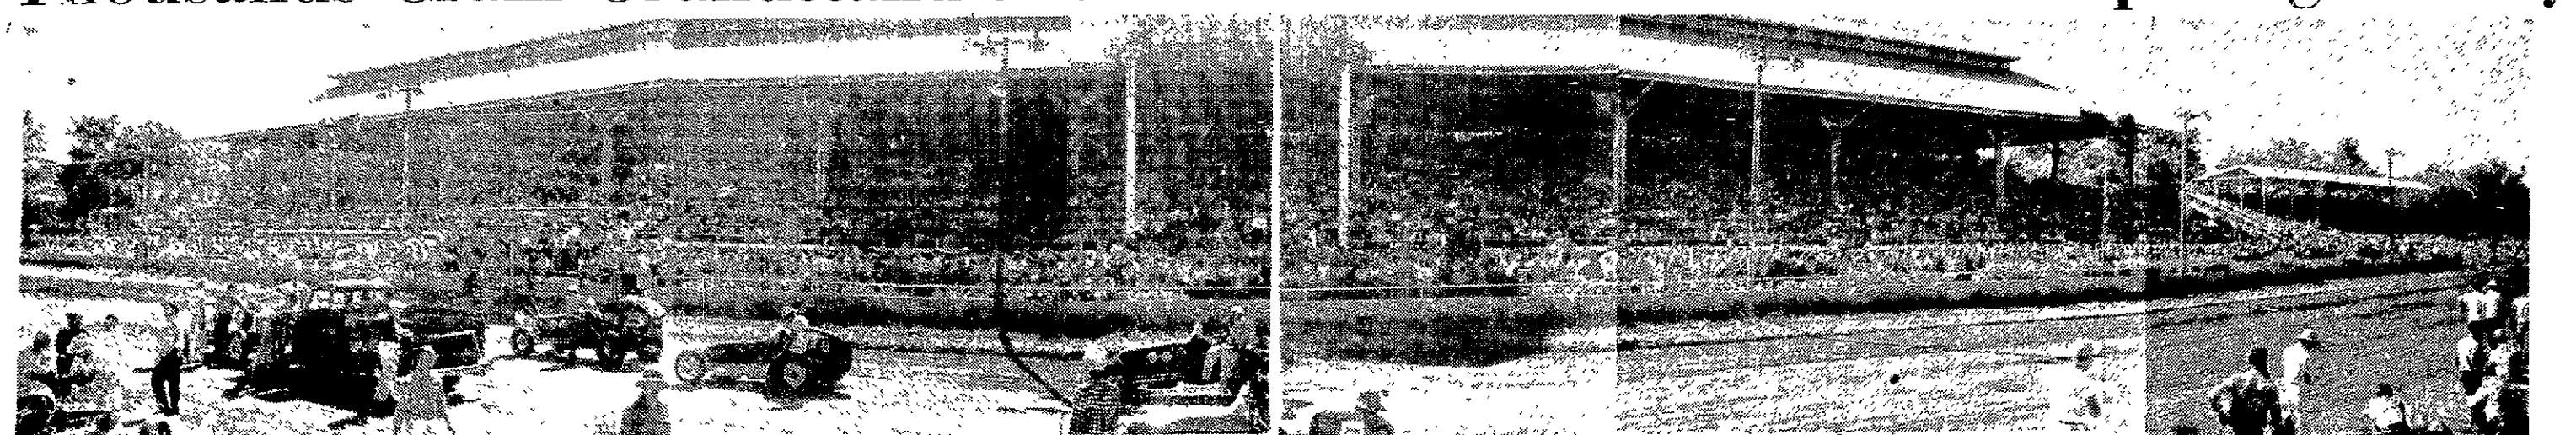

The Grand Circuit harness racing program with purses totaling more than $97,000 got underway, this afternoon, on the track in front of the grandstand. The harness racing program is for five days through Friday. Some of the finest race horses in the country have been entered in the events.

Tonight the Horse Show will be held in front of the grandstand for the second time of the fair, this year. Tuesday night it will

CHAMBERS CHAT...

of Stoves and Things

Yesterday I hied me down to the stores in search of the one appliance a housewife uses one thousand and ninety-five times a year—a stove.

There were big ones and little ones. Some of them had so many gadgets that they resembled the instrument panel of a big bomber. I bent over to touch my toes to look at so many broilers that a gentleman in a convertible with sun glasses and a tam tried to sign me on the spot for the lead in a movie called "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Amazingly enough, most stove manufacturers have made no important changes in stoves since old Ben Franklin invented the cookstove. Regardless of the fuel used, they all boil, steam and stew food on top of the stove, being mighty careless how they toss into the air thousands of hot little B.T.U.'s.

Having opened doors, rapped on stove tops, and peered under the burners I am to stoves what Dorothy Dix is to the lovelorn, and what Emily Post is to etiquette, and what Drew Pearson is to Drew Pearson, in other words, I'm an authority. If I were composing commandments for buying a stove today, here's what I would write: Beware of gadgets. They rarely wear well and they are expensive. Look for a range that stresses quality. Ask: "How much does it weigh. What is it made of?" Look for smoothness of finish, reinforcement, and rigid construction.

Don't pick a stove if its grates ride on the porcelain. I prefer chromium cooking tops because they are much less likely to show acid stains from food particles. Look for a stove with a high boiler, and a deep well. The former saves your back and the latter permits cooking three separate food dishes without the drudgery of pot-watching. Insist on a tight-fitting oven door. Ask: "Will this oven hold a No. 5 Lisk Roaster?" (24 lb. turkey—30 lb. meat roast).

Be sure to get a stove that fits flush to the wall. Don't compromise with an improperly vented stove. Some bounce the heat and cooking residue against the wall and others throw it right into a cook's face. The best venting is done through a hollow back that deposits the food residue on a shelf baffle that can be easily removed for cleaning.

Look for the length of guarantee the manufacturer makes. Divide the price by the amount of years of guarantee to get the actual yearly cost. Determine what kind of insulating material is used and how much. Rock wool is generally favored by stove manufacturers stressing the importance of insulation. The American Gas Association requires 18 pounds of insulation for its certified performance endorsement. Electric ranges usually have this much insulation, but one gas range on the market has almost eighty pounds and that promises cooler cooking these dog days.

And don't overlook color in ranges. Pastels are a sound permanent investment. You can build varied color schemes for years around a soft color spot.

You'll find the Chambers Range combines all the features you've been wanting in your new range and you have a choice of colors, too! CHAMBERS... the range that cooks with the gas off is sold exclusively in Sedalia by

Most Homes Have Two "Gold Mines"

In the sense that a gold mine represents something of undetermined value which is capable of making money, there are a couple of them in almost every home.

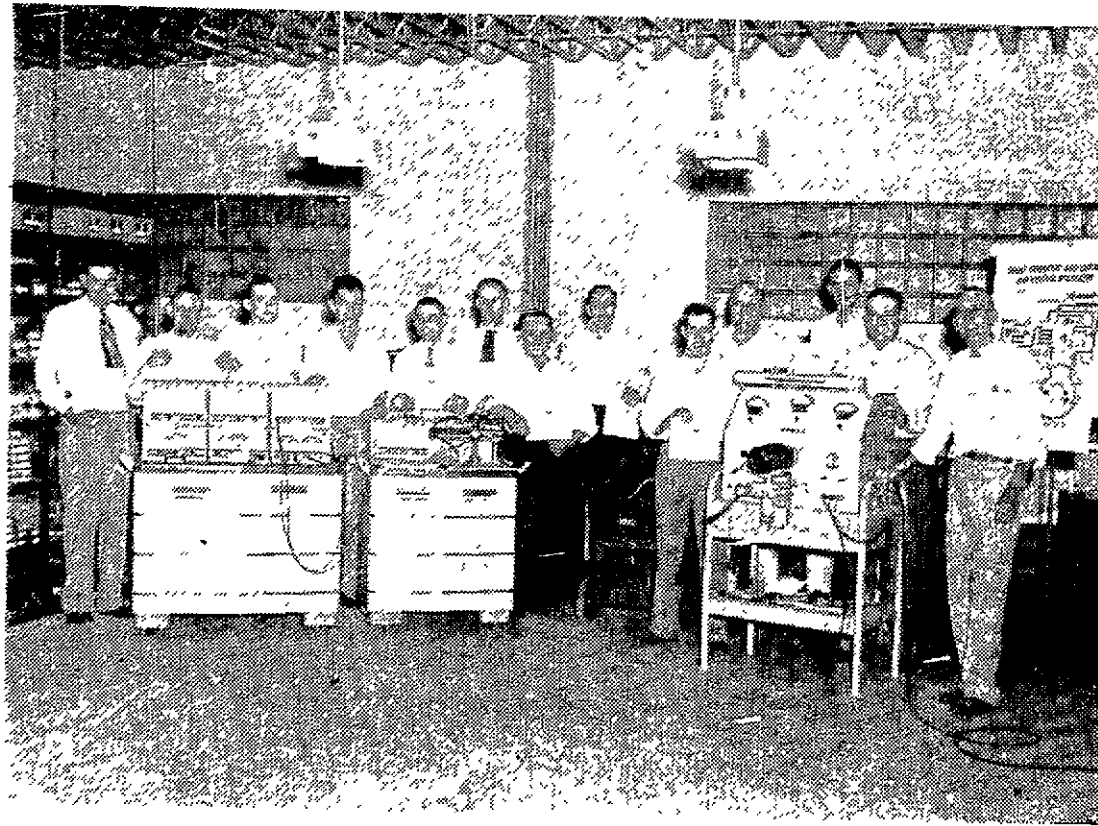

Very often the attic and the basement are crowded with all sorts of things that once cost a lot of money and which could be advantageously used in some other home.

If you want to have these mines of yours profitably worked, just call the Democrat-Capital and let a trained ad-taker get busy. She will find cash buyers for you through descriptive ads in the classified section.

Graduates in Automotive Repair

The above picture was taken in the Brown automotive instruction room located in the Brown automotive supply building, 219 West Third street. The men are holding certificates obtained after 12-week training in the intricacies of automotive tune-up and repair. The graduates from left to right are: Raymond Thompson, of Ferguson Motors, Windsor; William Driven, and Wilbur T. Scott, Jr., of Turner Motors, Sweet Springs; Leonard Lower, Bonville Motors, Boonville; Leonard Koenke, Koenke's garage, Syracuse; Willard Dittmer, Emma Motor Co., Emma; Virgil Morris, Bryant Motor Co., Ray Gensler, Boonville Motor Co.; William M. Dey, Dey's Garage, Sedalia; Wesley Grimes, Grimes Garage, Hughesville; John E. Brown, Jr., Brown's Automotive Supply; Arlei Goetz, Goetz Garage, Cole Camp; and John C. Brown, instructor.

This continual school operates on a non-profit basis. It is sponsored by the Delco-Remy company, the Electric Auto-Lite company, the Allen Electric and Equipment company, and the local sponsor Brown's Automotive clinic. Mr. Brown said the club room—located on the main floor of the Brown Automotive parts building at Third street and Kentucky avenue—is fully equipped for teaching those enrolled the intricacies of automobile repair. The Brown clinic has furnished all the equipment and the other three companies have contributed charts and service instruction manuals and other literature.

The present class started twelve weeks ago and now each graduate has received a certificate denoting his ability and skill in auto mechanic work. Each graduate also received a class pin, authorizing him as a capable "tune-up" man.

A new class will start September 16, but anyone interested must have a prerequisite of at least two years of some experience with auto work. Mr. Brown said this type of mechanical instruction is in operation of major cities all over the country. He said he must limit enrollment to sixteen men under present arrangement because he could not give adequate instruction to a group any larger.

Coroner's Jury Names Slayer

HARRIS, Mo., Aug. 20 — (AP)—J. B. Collings, 31-year-old unemployed war veteran was named Friday by a coroner's jury as the slayer of a neighbor who had intervened in a family quarrel.

The neighbor, Fred E. Butcher, a 62-year-old painter, was felled late yesterday by shotgun blasts at his home.

Following the jury's verdict Arthur D. Campbell, acting Sullivan county prosecutor, said he would prepare first degree murder charges against Collings. The accused man is being held in the county jail at Milan.

Sgt. F. H. Wood of the highway patrol said the painter had gone to the Collings home across the street, apparently to stop a quarrel. Mrs. Irene Collings, the wife, and John H. Michael, Collings grandfather, then returned with Butcher to his home and went into the cellar.

Shortly afterward Mrs. Butcher, Harris telephone operator, received a call from Collings that her husband had been shot.

Death to Oldest Concessionaire

Phil Little, who has had concessions on the Missouri State fair grounds since 1901, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at St. Paul, Minn., Sunday, at the Minnesota Fair.

Mrs. Little was at the Des Moines, Ia., Fair with Mr. Little's brother, Marvin Little, a brother of Mrs. Leo Eickhoff, 705 East Fifth street.

Short funeral services will be held at a chapel at Minneapolis today and the body will then be taken to Dallas, Tex., where funeral services will be held at the Wieland chapel at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Little was a member of the National Showman's League and for several years owned "The World of Today Shows."

Charles W. Green, former Secretary of the Missouri State Fair for twelve years, upon learning of Mr. Little's death, said he recalled Mr. Little stating he was the oldest concessionaire at the Missouri fair having had a concession under the grandstand since 1901. "During my time as secretary," Mr. Green said, "he was our finest concessionaire and it was always a pleasure to do business with him."

Concession men who work most of the fairs where Mr. Little also had concessions, recalled the help he was always giving them when in a "tight spot" although a strong competitor.

Still Battle on Forest Fires

By the Associated Press

Hundreds of fire fighters battled flames in national forest areas of six western states today. At least six major fires were still out of control; three in the Payette national forest of central Idaho and three in the Yellowstone national park in Wyoming.

Four crewmen were hospitalized, one in California and three in Idaho.

More than 300 lightning-caused fires, most of them small, covered an estimated 33,000 acres of timber and grass lands in the drought-stricken forests.

Winds that caused fires to flare out of control Saturday had died down yesterday and in Idaho, a light overcast raised the humidity last night. Weather will be the major factor in bringing the fires under control, James Hockaday, forester from the regional forest service fire control office at Ogden, Utah, said today.

"It seems I can't get out of my system my boyhood love for a fair," He expressed a fond desire to be able to be at the fair here.

Mr. Evans, manager of Averill Trusts at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is also superintendent of the Hawkeye Derby running race meet held in connection with the all-Iowa fair at Cedar Rapids.

In his letter he enclosed a folder of the program for the race events there on Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Forming New Party

By Thomas A. Reedy

BERLIN, Aug. 22 — (AP) — A splinter communist movement, opposed to the Kremlin, developed in Berlin and the Russian zone of Germany today.

Fifty former members of the Communist and Socialist unity parties announced they had broken away and were forming a "free Communist party."

The meeting was held in the historically strong Communist area of Wedding in the French sector of the city.

It was the first movement of this type to be started since the Russians imposed their brand of Communist politics on eastern Germany.

The group said it hoped to branch out and become a major party by appealing to Germans who favor Communism but reject Russian domination.

The adopted slogan is "a union of all German Communists rejecting Soviet imperialism."

The west Berlin city government will be asked to grant a license.

Not Swayed From Outside

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 — (AP) — Top Air Force generals, past and present, testified today that no political or other outside influences swayed their decisions to build up a force of B-36 bombers.

In addition, Gen. Carl Spaatz, retired air force chief, called the B-36 and the atomic bomb "the greatest forces for peace in the world."

Spaatz was the first of a string of generals to deny to the House armed services committee that any pressure from the outside influenced air force decisions to develop the giant B-36.

The committee is trying to find out whether there were any irregularities in the B-36 program. Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), a committee member, had raised questions about that.

Van Zandt was absent today as Spaatz said there were none. Then members of the senior officers board that passed on the B-36 program took over to repeat denials of influence.

General Muir S. Fairchild, vice chief of staff of the Air Force, followed Spaatz. Next came Lt. Gen. Harold A. Craig, deputy chief of staff for material. Also on the witness line were Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad and Gen. Joseph D. McNarney.

Fairchild told of presiding as chairman at a meeting of the senior officers board last February 21 at which it was decided to speed up the production of B-47's, continue to B-36 program and cancel plans to build up a force of B-54 all-jet bombers.

He said the decision was unanimous.

Animal Shelter Officer Missing

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 22 — (AP) — Mrs. Pandy Webster, executive secretary of an animal shelter was reported missing today after she had received threatening telephone calls.

The panel trucks the 50-year-old woman drives in her work was found abandoned in the south part of the city. Under the windshield wiper button was a note, written in hand-printed letters. It read:

"Lay off Independence, Mo."

Mrs. Webster, founder of the Wayside Waifs five years ago, had campaigned for better care of stray animals. Last July Mrs. Webster was one of a group which protested the care of dogs at the Independence dog pound.

R. J. Chenwerth, president of the Wayside Waifs, said that since that time Mrs. Webster had been inspecting the dog pound. Recently, he said, she had been receiving telephone calls from a gruff voiced man who told her:

"Stay out of Independence. It's none of your business what happens to those dogs."

Three detectives were assigned to the search for the woman. Members of the family said she left home last night, intending to work at the suburban shelter for only a few hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ginn, 1721 South Harrison avenue, have taken into their home as their own a 12-year-old boy. He is Lowell Wayne Ginn and will be in the seventh grade this year at Horace Mann school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ginn have known the boy all of his life and have always been fond of him. He has visited often in their home.

Death in Lonely Hearts Murder

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 — (AP) — Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, and Raymond Fernandez, 34, today were sentenced to die in the electric chair the week of Oct. 10 for the murder of Mrs. Janet Pay, 66, Albany, N. Y., widow.

Neither defendant displayed any emotion as Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora pronounced sentence.

Sing Sing usually carries out executions on Thursday night of the week designated. However, before this sentence can be executed, a mandatory appeal must be taken to the state's highest court, the court of appeals in Albany.

The killing resulted from a scheme on the part of the defendants to fleece lonely women through mail romances. They were also accused of the killing in Michigan of Mrs. Delphine Downing, 24, and her infant daughter, Ranelle.

Pettis County Farm and Home News

Method For Controlling Of Weevil

Chemical For Use On Corn And Also Wheat Stored

Numerous inquiries are coming to the Agricultural Extension office pertaining to controlling weevil in wheat and corn.

This is of so much importance due to considerable quantities of wheat in storage on farms that a somewhat lengthy and rather detailed information seems justified by Roy I. Koplen, County Extension Agent.

The common chemical used is carbon bisulphide sometimes called carbon disulphide. It is nearly colorless, ill smelling liquid that changes to a gas very rapidly when exposed to the air. The gas is nearly 3 times as heavy as air and therefore sinks to the bottom of any space used. It is highly inflammable and explosive when mixed with air and hence should be used with caution. A flame of any kind, a lighted cigar, cigarette or even the spark from hitting metal on metal, or from an electric switch may cause an explosion of gas.

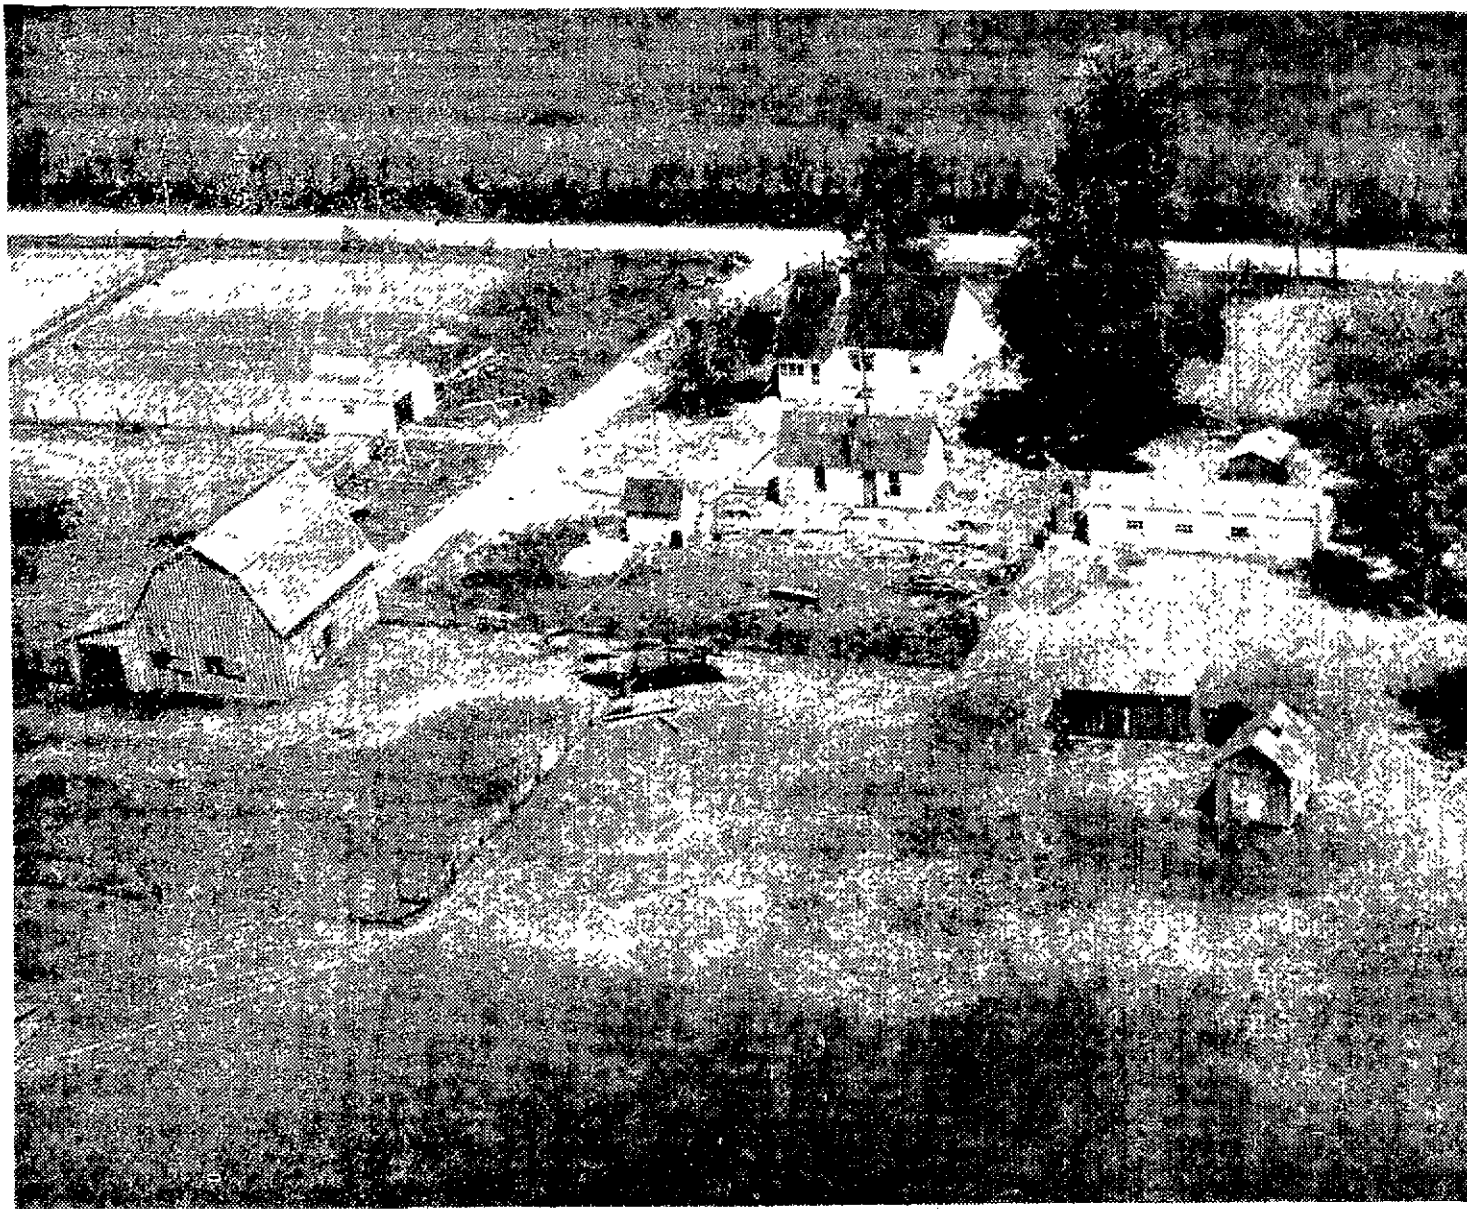

The gas is deadly to all forms of insect life, if used at sufficient strength and at temperatures in which insects are active (70 F or more). It is on the whole perhaps the best penetrator in stored grain.

Some Nauseous Effects

If breathed by man, the gas causes dizziness and nausea, and produces somewhat the effect of intoxication. It is deadly if inhaled in large amounts.

To use this gas, first the sides and bottoms of the bins, rooms, or containers to be fumigated, as nearly air tight as possible. Where there is sure to be some leakage, the amount of carbon bisulphide must be increased above that given below. If the previous fumigation was not done and weevil is present, one should treat. Never attempt to fumigate a room or bin with large cracks or openings in the bottom or sides. The best results are secured with temperatures from 75 to 90 F. Do not fumigate when the temperature is below 60 F. One pound of carbon bisulphide to each 100 cubic feet of space is usually sufficient. The

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Whose farm is it?

Occupants of the above farm home may have wondered this spring about a plane buzzing low over their buildings. The picture explains it. The airplane pilot didn't know whose farm it was. The photographer didn't either. The two of them just flew around the Central Missouri area served by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital newspapers and took the pictures. They couldn't take pictures of all the farms but they got as many good shots as possible during their flight time.

So about once a week hereafter, until the pictures run out, the Sedalia Democrat-Capital will print these farm home pictures as a news feature. The newspapers would like to know whose farm homes they are.

Who lives in the above pictured farm home? If the occupant will come to the news department on the second floor of the Democrat-Capital building, 110 West Fourth street, Sedalia and identify himself, he will be given free the original 8x10 glossy print photograph of the farm pictured above.

Hereafter from time to time the other mystery farm pictures will appear on the Democrat-Capital farm page. Watch for them. If one is your farm picture, come for the photograph.

Coverage For 1950 Wheat

Offered in County For Protection Against Loss

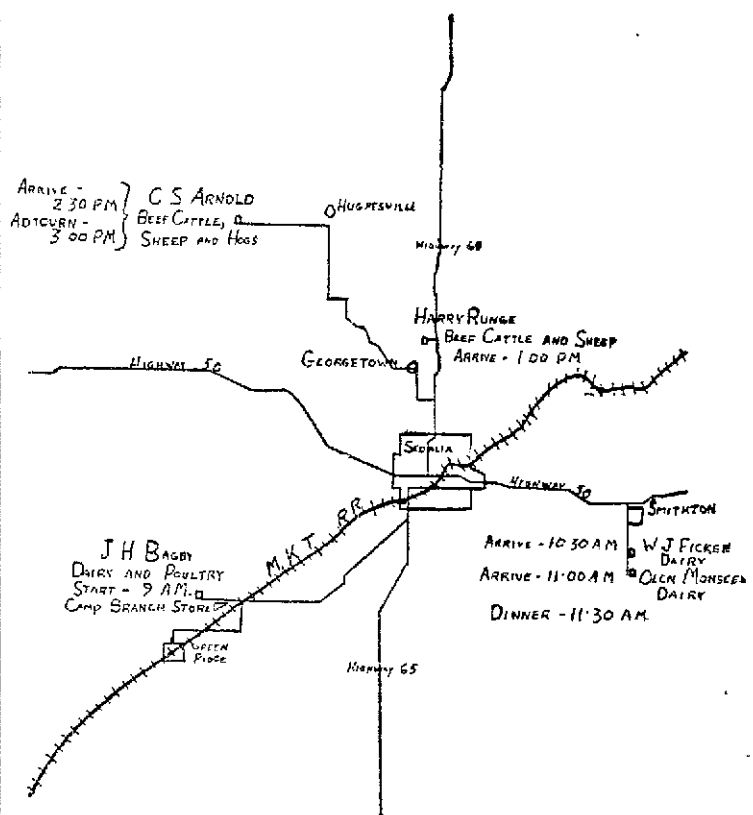

Federal Crop Insurance is being offered in Pettis county on the 1950 wheat crop for the first time under the new act, reports James A. Harvey, chairman of the local county PMA committee.

The policy offered by the Crop Insurance Corporation insures against loss of production of the wheat crop while in the field, due to unavoidable causes including drought, flood, hail, wind, winter-kill, insects, plant disease and such other unavoidable hazards. The contract is continuous and shall remain in effect for each succeeding crop year until either the insured or the Corporation gives to the other, written notice of cancellation before the cancellation date of any year.

Coverage is established at a figure to protect the insured, in case of loss, for out-of-the-pocket cost in preparation of seedbed and seeding of the grain. Cost of the insurance in Pettis county is figured on the basis of one-half bushel per acre.

Insurance agents will contact as many wheat growers in Pettis county as possible to give them the opportunity to avail themselves of this protection if they so desire, states Harvey. All contracts to cover 1950 wheat must be signed by September 15 and it is required that no less than 200 contracts must be signed to obtain final approval for administration of the Crop Insurance Program in the county.

Harvey further states that since time is short, it may not be possible for agents to contact all wheat growers, therefore those interested who are not contacted by an agent are invited to call at the county Farm Program office to obtain further details concerning the policy and to sign a contract before September 15.

Help Farmers Build or Repair

The Federal Housing Act recently passed by the 81st Congress under Title V authorizes government loans to help farmers construct or repair farm dwelling and other buildings.

This Title of the Housing Act designates the Farmer's Home Administration to administer the functioning of the loaning program, according to information received by Oscar H. De Wolf, Pettis County Supervisor. In order to be eligible, a farmer must be unable to get the needed credit for housing or farm building improvements from other reliable sources, Mr. De Wolf stated, and that loans can be made only to farm owners. Landlords may use loans to provide better housing for tenants or farm laborers. Veterans will be given preference.

Mr. De Wolf further commented the Housing Act, under Title V, further provided that under certain condition loans may be made for land development purposes as well as enlarge an undersized family type farm. The loaning program will be placed in operation as soon as the Congress has made loan funds available as provided for in the Act.

As outlined in the Act loans are repayable in a maximum of 33 years and will draw interest at the rate of 4 per cent. Under certain conditions a moratorium may be granted on principal and interest during the first five years of the repayment period.

When the program is placed in operation applications will be filed at the county office of the Farmer's Home Administration. The eligibility of all applicants must be certified by the County FHA Advisory Committee of three farmers before loans can be made.

Remodeled Kitchen and New Water System

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Runge started in 1946 to remodel their kitchen and add labor saving equipment. What they have accomplished will be seen on the Balanced Farming Tour August 30th.

First came a new built-in sink, inlaid linoleum on the floors and new base and wall cabinets. Added to these has been a roll-away table that Mrs. Runge finds very useful.

Then in 1947 a new deep well was dug so for the first time the Runge had an adequate water supply at all times during the year. This water system was first housed in a pump house that has now been covered with an attractive cobblestone veneer.

High Yield On Terraced Field

Some time will be taken at Harry Runge while on the Balanced Farming Tour, August 30th to look over a field now completely protected with terraces and terrace outlets. This field yielded 60 bushels of oats per acre this year.

The field is located next to Highway 65. Three terrace outlets were built in 1946 and the field was terraced in 1947. It was heavily fertilized with refuse from a poultry dressing plant that winter and grew a fine crop of corn in 1948.

Apparently practically no fertility left the field after the terraces were built. There are indications that a little nitrogen was washed out into the terrace outlets but apparently it was caught in the grass roots there as evidenced by a rank growth of grass right at the mouth of the terraces but not extending far down the outlet.

The field was in Clinton oats and sweet clover in 1949. The oats yielded 60 bushels per acre and the field now has a good stand of first year sweet clover.

Two Tons Per Acre For Hay

Numerous reports have come to the extension office regarding the amount of hay harvested from terrace outlets. Leo Hoehns who lives south of Smithton baled 5 tons of hay from one large outlet containing about 2 acres.

John Hainen took about 6 tons from 2 acres of outlets on his farm near the Grange Hall east of Sedalia; Sherman Pritchard of near Ionia cut nearly 2 tons from an acre of outlet; C. G. Shlobohm living on the 16th Street Road west of Highway 127 reported good yields and Norman Gibson who lives south of Houstonia harvested 2 1/2 tons of hay from an outlet about 1 1/4 acres in size and seeded in the fall of 1948.

These yields substantiate experiment station findings that land used for terrace outlets is not taken out of production but is actually producing a heavy crop or hay at the same time it serves as an outlet.

B-J Crown To Moberly, 1-0 in Tenth

Scheiner Wins, Imhauser Loses, In Pitchers' Duel

Scoring one unearned run in the tenth inning, the Moberly Miners defeated the Sedalia Chiefs, 1 to 0, to win the 1949 championship of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson baseball league. The final league contest was played Sunday night at Liberty park.

Arthur Scheiner, ace left hander of Moberly, was the winning pitcher, his tenth victory of the year against two losses. Joe Imhauser, Sedalia right hander, was charged with the loss, his third defeat against 12 victories. Farris caught for Moberly, Barbour for Sedalia.

Sedalia Finishes Second

Both teams had records of ten wins and one loss going into the game. Moberly finishes with 11-1 a percentage of .917, with Sedalia taking second place in the league with 10-2, .833. Both Sedalia losses were to Moberly, the first also by a one-run margin, 2 to 1, a game in which Egbert and Hawley combined their talents on the hill for a no-hitter, but losing despite the feat.

About 1,000 fans saw the deciding game, including about 400 who came from Moberly. A chartered bus from that city brought many Miner rooters here for the contest.

10th Inning, Play by Play

After nine errorless innings of a perfect pitchers' battle, Burton, Miners' rightfielder, opened the overtime frame with a pop fly out to Vilmer at second base. Scheiner grounded out, third to first on a nice pickup and throw by May. Kelly, centerfielder then sliced a spinning, tricky bouncing grounder to Vilmer at second. It got through him, but was recovered to hold Kelly on first after the error. Dent, second baseman for Moberly, then poled a line double between the left and center fielders that bounced against the fence at the 331-foot mark. Kelly easily scoring. Imhauser then fanned Murry, retiring the side and leaving Dent on second. It was an unearned run on one hit and one error.

Scheiner set Sedalia down in order in the last of the tenth with perfect nurling. Imhauser grounded out, third to first. Vilmer and Hawley were retired on ground outs, pitcher to first. It was no runs, not hits and the ball game.

Excellent Pitching

Both pitchers hurled excellent ball, mixing sharp breaking curves with effective change of pace pitches and both were still plenty strong at the end of the tenning affair.

Each team collected only five hits. Imhauser fanned 14 and walked two, while Scheiner struck out seven and issued four passes. As an indication of the number of ground balls hit, Sedalia had 11 putouts at first base with Moberly collecting 18, or over half the 30 outs of the game. Imhauser faced 39 batters, Scheiner 38.

Scheiner was the leading Moberly hitter, with two singles for four trips to the plate. Dillard also had two one-basers in four trips for the Chiefs, the hits being of the infield variety.

Scoring Threats

The Chiefs threatened to score three times — in the first, fourth and fifth innings — when they left two runners on base each frame. After the fifth, however, no runner got beyond second base with Scheiner pitching almost perfect ball.

Moberly had not had a man past second until the eighth inning, when they also left two men stranded. In the ninth, Bishop tripled with one out, but was caught in a hotbox between third and home to end the scoring threat.

Frank Luptow Won Three of Six Events

Crowded Spectators Watched Auto Races Sunday at The Fair

Frankie Luptow of Tampa, Fla. swept three of six auto races with his black panther Offenhauser in front of a packed grandstand audience to capture his twentieth feature of the year in the National Speedways championship auto races Sunday afternoon at the Missouri State Fair.

Deb Snyder of Kent, Ohio, defending dirt track champion of 1948, driving an "Offey," ate dust from Luptow's powerful machine in the feature race, but managed to win his opening five lap qualifying race to make him the day's second biggest money winner. At least twenty-five drivers battled time on the half mile oval that was made fast by recent rains. The half mile track provided more thrills for the spectators and at the same time permitted them to keep a better tab on the swirling machines as they rounded the track at a speed of over 100 miles an hour.

Drivers Return Saturday

The auto races, with additional famed drivers, will compete for points leading to the 1949 championship in a return performance to be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Following Sunday's races, many of the drivers left to enter the Iowa State Fair in an endeavor to gain extra season points leading to the championship.

In the first event of the race, Exposition Inaugural Dash, Frankie Luptow never lost the lead in the 2 1/2 mile race. Running second was Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Ind., who was motoring an Offenhauser. Red Redmond, Atlantic, Ga., behind the wheel of a Frankland Hal, came down the straight of way in third place. Time set by Luptow was 2:09:52.

Youth fighting against age, was the result of the 2 1/2 mile race in the National Speedway Dash, which was won by 39-year old Deb Snyder. Ken Rubright of Davenport, Iowa, driving a Graner, rounded the five laps with second place. The third driver to get the checkered flag signal was Cliff Griffin of Indianapolis, Ind., who was driving an Offenhauser. Snyder's time was 2:21:18.

Ozarks Dash

Al Fleming, Richmond, Va., driving a Denny Dryer rounded the five laps in the Ozark Dash in first place, with Sam Callaway, Miami, Fla., driving a Curtiss Special second and Diz Diltz of Kent, Ohio, who drives a Offenhauser, receiving third place money. The time set in this dash was 2:24:29.

In the mile and half Invitational Handicap, open to fastest cars selected by officials, Frankie Luptow, again came down the straight of way to clinch first place with Gene Aldridge of St. Joseph, Mo., behind the wheel of an Offenhauser, running second. Red Redmond followed Aldridge. Luptow's time was 1:18:33.

The four mile semi-feature event was won by Bobby Grim of Indianapolis, Ind., who raced an "Offey." He eliminated six drivers to win this feature race. The only driver left in the final lap was Herschel Wagner of Joseph, who was motoring a Graner. Time 52:61.

Murry Dickson Continues to Whip the St. Louis Cards

EFFECTIVE LURE — Laughing Lois Tew had no trouble getting this dolphin to strike. The 20-pounder was taken in waters off Morehead City, N.C.

By Joe Reichler (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Should the St. Louis Cardinals' brilliant pennant drive end in failure, the blame perhaps could be traced to last January 29.

That was the day Robert Hannegan, then president of the Cards, sold Murry Dickson, a front line pitcher, to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The transaction brought $125,000 in cold cash to St. Louis but no players.

Dickson, a prominent factor in the Redbirds' 1943 and '48 championships, won 12 games for the Cards in 1948. He was also helpful in relief.

Dickson has not fared well in Pittsburgh. The little right hander from Tracy, Mo., has been able to win only six games this season, but four of them have been over his former mates. He's made s.x strts against the Cards, and has yet to pitch a bad game.

The Redbirds faced a golden opportunity to open their biggest lead of the year over Brooklyn — two and a half games — yesterday. They had just whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, in the first game of a double header while the Dodgers were losing to Boston, 5-0. That gave the front running Cards a two-game bulge. A victory in the second game would increase their margin to two and a half games.

But they reckoned not with their former pitching star. Murry not only beat them but shut them out with two singles. The score was 8-0.

Fred Martin, a repatriate from the Mexican league, pitched the 4-2 win for the Cards.

Nippy Jones paced St. Louis' nine-hit attack on Bill Werle and Rip Sewell with three doubles and a single. Slaughter drove in two runs with a mighty triple off the right field wall.

Braves Shutout Dodgers

Bill Voiselle pitched the Braves to their shutout victory over the Dodgers.

Causing Phillies to Lose a National League Ball Game

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies lost a National league baseball game to the New York Giants yesterday because their fans got mad at the umpire.

A 15-minute barrage of pop bottles, over-ripe fruit and wads of paper forced Umpire Al Barlick to give the Giants a 9-0 forfeit victory in the nightcap of a Shibe park doubleheader. He said he did it "for the good of the people, baseball and the players."

It was the first major league forfeit since Sept. 27, 1942. That contest, too, involved the Giants. The New Yorkers were playing the Boston Braves when a horde of youngsters swarmed on the field.

Phils Won Opener

The Phils had won the opener 4-0 to stretch their win streak to six straight. But the fans ended the string in the ninth inning of the second game. At the time the Giants were ahead 4-2.

The ire of the Phil rooters — 19,742 strong — was directed at Umpire George Barr. Barlick, umpire-in-chief since he was officiating behind the plate, merely called the forfeit. He acted under a National league rule which says a game may be declared forfeited if the field is not cleared within 15 minutes after start of a rhabarb.

Fans In Fury

Barr, umpire at second, made the disputed decision that turned loose the fury of the fans. He called "a hit" what the Phils and the fans insisted was an out.

The Giants' Joe Lafata lashed a long fly which outfielder Richie Ashburn claimed was caught eight inches from the ground. Barr said it was "no catch." The blow scored Willard Marshall from third.

Ashburn slammed his glove to the ground. He stormed in at Barr. Other Phil players joined the argument.

Barr just turned his back — the decision stuck.

Then the pop bottles began to fly, together with jeering shouts of "kill the umpire."

Barlick told Phil manager Eddie Sawyer to clear the field for resumption of play. But efforts to quiet the fans and halt the bottle barrage proved fruitless, so Barlick called the forfeit.

Two Californians Share Favoritism In Golf Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Defending champion Dot Kiely and 15-year-old Marlene Bauer, both Californians, shared favoritism today as the 49th annual women's western amateur golf tourney opened with qualifying play for a field of 125.

Mrs. L. B. Beach was in charge of the music and a mixed quartet composed of L. L. Ream, H. H. Ream, Mrs. Roy Ragar and Mrs. E. J. Sims, sang "Nearer My God To Thee" and "No Night There."

Pallbearers were Wilford Acker, T. J. Close, R. A. Bennett, G. D. Rayburn, L. B. Beach and Glen Morrow.

Surviving are one daughter, Miss Ethel Phillips, of Eldorado, and a son Donald E. Phillips, of Kansas City and two sisters, Mrs. Jane Bartholomeu, of Warrensburg and Mrs. A. N. Baker, of Green Ridge.

Burial was in the Green Ridge cemetery by the side of her husband, who preceded her in death in 1943.

Mrs. J. A. Gordon, assisted by Mrs. Charles H. Ward, was hostess to the members of the Home Builders class of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church at her home in Green Ridge on Tuesday afternoon, August 16th. The president, Mrs. Charles Ward, presided over the meeting, which was opened by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison by the group. During the meeting the members voted to clean the church and wax the floor of the auditorium. The members of the T. N. C. class and Aid Society will be invited to assist with the cleaning. It was reported that the gypsy basket was started on its way. Mrs. Earl Embree was in charge of the devotional service and read the 15th psalm in the Bible. She also conducted a short Bible quiz.

Sonny Moore and His Roustabouts

It is a true statement to make, when Sonny Moore's Roustabouts make their appearance, that Mr. Moore will present the most unusual novelty in a dog act, climaxed by outstanding swift moving comedy. This is one of the highest salaried dog acts of its kind in the United States and will be one of the features in front of the grandstand at the Missouri State Fair, for five nights, starting August 23.

tesses served refreshments to the group.

The Green Ridge Extension club entertained their families with an ice cream supper Tuesday evening, August 16th. The supper was held in the basement of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. Sticker Advertising Fair Brought About Greetings

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Garrett, route 2, Sedalia, believe in advertising the Missouri State Fair, and find it pays dividends in friends.

With a sticker advertising the coming fair on their car Mr. and Mrs. Garrett started a trip west a few weeks ago and attracted a lot of attention of former Sedalians, Missourians and people who had attended fairs here.

The highlight of the meetings with former Missourians that the sticker brought about came when a man drove up beside the Garrett car, and asked Mr. Garrett to stop, which he did. The other car stopped, too, and the Rev. John Barrow Toomay got out and went over to the Garrett car for a little chat on Sedalia. "I used to be a minister in Sedalia at the old Presbyterian church on East Fourteenth street at Hancock avenue," he said.

Met Former Sedalia Minister
The visit was a real pleasure and Mr. Garrett came back to Sedalia with the name and address of the minister. He told his mother about the meeting and she began to smile. "The Rev. Mr. Toomay," she told her son, "was your very first visitor. Mr. Toomay was the first person who came to see you after you were born."

Mr. Garrett ran on to another Sedalian when he went to get information and a road map in Englewood, Calif.

"I'll give you a road map under one condition," said the young man, "if you know J. M. DeJarnett, on West Second street, in Sedalia."

Mr. Garrett got the map because he knew Mr. DeJarnett. The young man was G. G. Carter, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. DeJarnett, and a former Sedalian.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett left Sedalia about a month ago, going first to Kansas City where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Garrett. They then went to Lincoln, Nebr., where they visited relatives, to Kearney, Nebr., where they visited friends, to Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Boise, Idaho; Yakima, Wash., where they visited their nephews, James Dalton and Glenn Swift; Mt. Rainier, Wash.; Portland, Ore., down the coastal route, through the big redwood country, and in California they went to Oakland, Fresno, where they visited relatives, Los Angeles where they visited Mrs. Fay Lewis, and came home through Oklahoma and Kansas where they made several stops.

Major And Mrs. Hardin Return

Major T. F. Hardin, retired, and Mrs. Hardin, have moved to Pettis county to make their home. Major Hardin a former Sedalian, left here nearly forty years ago upon entering the army and retired just before World War II and had since been residing in Los Altos, California.

Major Hardin disposed of his properties in California and has purchased a sixty acre farm about five and a half miles south of Sedalia on the Water Works road. He has remodeled the small residence there and is residing on the farm.

Major and Mrs. Hardin plan on building a beautiful ranch type residence on the farm this next season.

He returned from the U. S. Infantry several years ago. He saw service during World War I.

Club Discusses Achievement Day

The La Monte Homemakers Extension Club held the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Swope, Friday.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Emmet Brown. Roll call was answered by "My Favorite Dress and Why I Like It." At the noon hour a contributive luncheon was served. Mrs. Edward Gregory gave the devotional by reading a poem, "Real Friends." The club talked on Achievement Day and made plans for their exhibits. The president appointed a committee for that purpose: Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. P. C. Reed and Mrs. James Roberts. Mrs. Edward Gregory read a paper and talked on rural schools and their conditions at the present time. Mrs. Ellis talked on "American Traditions."

The game and song leader, Mrs. P. C. Reed, conducted two games. Mrs. Ralph Hollenbeck and Miss Mildred Rages were winners. The speaker for the afternoon was Miss Mildred Rogers. Her subject was "Indians," their habits of living and kind of dress. Miss Rogers is a teacher in Arizona.

The meeting was closed by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Mrs. F. R. Harris, Mrs. Elan Keller, Mrs. Will Rogers and by G. H. S.

A marine explorer went down in a steel ball, 3,028 feet in the Pacific ocean and reported he was amazed at the unrecognizable forms of luminous life. Why do it the hard way? This fellow ought to take a trip through the Pentagon building in Washington.

Here is an interesting bit of information for the housewife who would like to have something different to put into her husband's lunch pail.
The World Book Encyclopedia tells us that nasturtium leaves make very tasty sandwich fillings, and the green seed pods may be picked and eaten as a substitute for capers. The substitute, no doubt, depending on what kind of capers friend husband indulges in.

Those who make whispered comments out of the side of their mouth usually have a twist to their conversation that is more than facial.

If Senate investigators keep picking on tryto-do-the-best-I-can General Harry Vaughan, most folks are likely to conclude that he is less of a military aide than he is a sour lemonade for President Truman.

Neutralizing the sourness, maybe that's why the investigators uncovered Vaughan's supposed intervention in behalf of a molasses company accused of violating a war food order. This angle of the probe might prove to be more sticky than sweet.

After the Vaughan crusade is over, the whole thing can be charged off to the general being a blunderer rather than engaging in any dishonest practices. President Truman's continued faith in his aide should be assurance to the public of General Vaughan's integrity. Unfortunately some people don't properly understand him.

Uncle Sam poured more than 65 million dollars into one Maine county last year to hold up the price of potatoes. One or two potato growers got government checks of around $500,000 apiece for their 1948 crop; a dozen or so got more than $150,000 each.

Thus every man, woman and child in the entire United States, figuratively speaking, paid 40 cents apiece to one Maine county to hold up the price of potatoes.

So this is what Washington calls "spreading the wealth?"

Surely the potato program doesn't fit in with Congressman Christopher's philosophy and we expect him to rise up on his hind legs and start roaring. We are going to watch the Congressional Record for his blast on this subject.

Out here in Pettis and Johnson counties the taxpayers would appreciate it if the government would merely protect its several million dollar investment in the Sedalia Army Air Base by putting it back in operation for an Air Academy.

There is such a thing as having a little sense of values, which we are beginning to doubt the present Congress has, if it doesn't scream to high heaven over dropping $65,000,000 for spuds in just one county. Worse, in this Maine county one government bureau is trying to restrain the potato growers and down the street another bunch of bureau boys, paid by the taxpayers, is teaching the farmer how to grow more spuds on less acreage, while the home economist is deleting potatoes from her menu suggestions.

There may be a legitimate explanation for it, if so we wait expectantly and patiently to hear what it is.

Forget partisan politics and tear into 'em, Mr.
Christopher.

A buffoon and a bassoon have something in common; the latter being a wind instrument of the double-reed kind, having a long curved mouthpiece and a doubled wooden tube furnished with holes.

There is no word for "kiss" in the Japanese language. Who needs a word for it, says the sweet young thing.

A Joke That Backfired—

Somewhere I read a story of an inveterate practical joker who went hunting with a friend.
He left the latter in the road while he went to a farmhouse to seek hunting privileges.

The farmer said it would be alright to hunt on his land but requested in return that the hunter shoot a sick cow in a distant pasture.

The hunter's friend, waiting in the road, did not know about this arrangement, so the one who called on the farmer thought he would play one of his practical jokes. Finally, when the two hunters reached the pasture and were near the sick cow, the first hunter affected a wild look in his eye and exclaimed, "I think I'll shoot that cow over there." He raised his gun and did just that. His friend was dumbfounded, but was horrified when his companion, still wild-eyed, shrieked, "Now, I think I'll shoot you."

He raised his gun to scare his friend, but his act was too good. The friend, believing his companion had gone crazy, raised his gun and fired first, in what he thought was self-defense.
The practical joker dropped to the ground dead
as a door knob.

I suppose there is some kind of a moral in this story.

Fewell Saved by "Hi, Bill!"

William H. Fewell visited the news room the other day. I don't see him as often as I did 32 years ago when he was a policeman and I was a reporter. Bill is one of those fellows whom nature has treated kindly, he just doesn't seem to be vulnerable to Father Time.

Bill is one of those unusual fellows who does not forget faces and names. One day recently a nephew from California was visiting him and the two were standing on Third and Ohio. Bill spoke to almost everyone who passed by. The nephew marveled at this and remarked, "Bill, do you know everybody in town?"

"Well, not everybody, but most of them," replied Fewell. "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll bet you a case of beer that I can call the names of the next ten people who pass us." The nephew took him up.

Bill was doing fine until the eighth fellow approached. He was carrying two suitcases and evidently had just arrived from out of town. Suddenly Bill noticed the man was wearing an Elks charm, so as the man passed by Fewell spoke up: "Hi, Bill!" (That's the old Elks greeting.) The traveler dropped his suitcases, extended his hand and said "Hi, Bill. Sure glad to see you. Which way to the Bothwell hotel?" Bill told him and the man went on.

Fewell scored on the next two passersby and the nephew acknowledged losing the bet, but he was skeptical about that traveling man.
"Where did you meet that fellow?" he asked.
"Oh, in New York, I believe," answered Fewell, who had never been in the big city.

"It just goes to show, these California guys are not so smart," Fewell meditated. "But I did tell the nephew about 'Hi, Bill' after we had consumed the refreshments."

Make The Blonde Pay—

Hope springs eternal in the human breast when solutions to economic processes at the barber level are suggested by Anatomist A.
Brazier Howell in the World Book Encyclopedia.
He says that "the barbers could very well alter their prices in accordance with the color of a person's hair. The biggest barber bill should be paid by blondes, because they have more hairs per head than brunettes and redheads.
The carrot-topped customer is the barber's delight because he or she has only 90,000 hairs while the brunette has 105,000 and the blonde averages 140,000."

A giraffe can see backward without turning its head. Somewhat like administration spokesmen who can't get their backward vision off the Eightieth Congress.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Able Dynamic New Members of House Are 81st Congress's And Nation's Good Fortune

By Robert S. Allen

Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on vacation, The Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—There is little of commendable note in the record of the "Eighty-Worst" Congress, but it is outstanding in one regard.

That is the group of able, dynamic and courageous new members in the House.

Most of them are Democrats, due to the big over-turn last year. Representing all sections of the country, most of them are young.
But regardless of age, party or region, all have one thing in common.

They are liberal-minded.

Also, the most forceful among them are war veterans. Whether this service is the cause of their militancy is conjectural. But it is a fact that these men, who fought for democracy in combat, are taking democracy very seriously in public office.

As Freshmen, they are nominally "back seat-ers" under the rule of seniority. They have tail-end places on committees, some of minor importance. But it is significant of the caliber and fighting qualities of the group, that every one has already made his mark as a leader on at least one major issue.

Also noteworthy is that several of the most outstanding rookies are southerners. This is the first Congress in many years wherein that has happened. In outlook, vigor and forth-rightness, these yearlings are in striking contrast to many of the old-timers from their section.

Because of limitation of space it is not possible to highlight the entire list of outstanding freshmen. Among the distinctive representatives of the group from midwest, are:

Indiana—James Noland, Winfield Denton, John Walsh and Truman Crook.

Illinois—Edgar Jonas, Sidney Yates, James Buckley, Chester Chesney, Peter Mack, Neil Linehan and Richard Hoffman

Iowa—H. R. Gross.

Minnesota—Fred Marshall, Roy Wier and Eugene McCarthy.

Wisconsin—Clement Zablocki and Glenn Davis.

Michigan—Gerald Ford.

Ohio—Earl Wagner, Thomas Burke, Edward Breen and Wayne Hays.

Missouri—Richard Bolling, George Christopher, Clare Magee, Morgan Moulder and Phil Welch.

Nebraska—Eugene O'Sullivan.

Mother Can Help Girl Who Thinks She's Unattractive

What can a mother do about a daughter who is convinced she is unattractive?

"I'd do anything in my power to help her, but I don't know what to do," writes the mother of an unhappy 18-year-old.

Lots of mothers have had to face this problem—and they've tried to solve it in a variety of ways.

Some of the systems don't work too well. Mrs. R. tried to make her daughter "feel" pretty by paying her frequent and exaggerated compliments. But the compliments don't ring true, so they don't help much. It's almost impossible to fool a teen-ager about her looks, if she has a mirror in her room, and if the only compliments she gets come from a doting mother.

Mrs. G. tries to nag her daughter into being better looking. She is always after her to "stand up, straight," to stop eating between meals, or to take more pains with her grooming. That just makes Frances G. feel homelier than ever and it also gives her the idea that her mother is as dissatisfied with her looks as she is herself.

Try Helping Daughter With Appearance

Well, what's a better way? Mrs. W. seems to be on the right track. She accepts her daughter's looks for what they are, neither paying her exaggerated compliments or nagging at her to do this and stop doing that.

But she does take pains to help Jane W. select the most becoming clothes, to find the most flattering hair-do, and to use make-up skillfully.

She has also encouraged Jane to make the most of a good mind, to learn to dance and swim well, to go out for activities at school.

But most important of all, perhaps, she has encouraged Jane to show a gracious friendly interest in other people.

If she has brains and charm, plus some spunk, a girl can get along remarkably well without beauty. A pleasing personality is, after all, a fairly satisfactory substitute for beauty, even in youth. And it has the decided advantage of being more durable.

The Doctor Says

Tetanus Toxoid And Antitoxin Fight Deadly Lockjaw Disease

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is an extremely serious disease. In recent years about 700 deaths have been recorded from this disease annually. It can be prevented, however. For many years an antitoxoid has been available which counteracts it, providing it is given before the active symptoms develop.

The germ which causes lockjaw is present almost everywhere on the soil and on objects which have come in contact with the earth. The germs are carried into the tissues by the penetration of a rusty nail or other object. Here, deep in the tissues, the germ grows and produces a toxin or poison which is carried by the blood stream through the body.

Toxoid Prevention
Actually the most effective measure in combating lockjaw is to produce an immunity or resistance to the poisonous toxin ahead of time. This is done by giving two or three injections of a tetanus toxoid, which causes the human body to produce its own antitoxin.
During World War II an astonishingly small number of cases of tetanus occurred among our soldiers and sailors because military personnel were given toxoid injections.

Toxoid can now be given to children combined with diphtheria and whooping cough vaccine. No serious disadvantages have been discovered, and, since the disease is so serious when it does occur, this simple method is well worthwhile.

If a person who has received the toxoid is later injured in such a way as to cause fear of the disease, all that is necessary is to give another injection of the toxoid.
The toxoid practically never produces unpleasant reactions and this is another advantage over antitoxin.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

QUESTION: Will drinking six or seven cups of coffee have anything to do with high blood pressure?

ANSWER: It is doubtful that coffee drinking has anything to do with producing high blood pressure. Coffee does contain a strong drug, however, and is often forbidden, or allowed in small quantities only, when a patient has already developed high blood pressure.

STEPS TO THE MOON

THE STORY: Gaynel Teare has been going with a young Detroit millionaire, Barry Bainbridge, but she has recently met another interesting young man, Fritz Frey-man, who is far from being a millionaire. Gaynel is really the breadwinner of her family, which consists of her mother, Emily, who is always going into some new project; her brother, Denny, who never keeps a job, and her younger sister, Pat, who is 14 years old.
At present, Emily is backing the Little Theater movement.

IV

SINCE that night, several weeks ago, when there had been that confusion about their meeting place—Barry claimed he had waited almost an hour in the Motor Bar—he had discovered a change in Gaynel.

If he but knew that the change was a carefree young man by the name of Frederick Fitzroy Frey-man, Barry might have become even more concerned. Wouldn't he have been shocked at her letting someone pick her up?

Oh, Fritz had "taken her places," as he had promised. They had gone out together a great deal since then, although she had not asked him to her home yet. He usually took her to places she had never seen before; or at least in a different way, like the afternoon at Briggs Stadium, chewing peanuts and gulping pop and yelling herself hoarse when the Tigers scored against the Indians. It had been more fun, sitting in the press box, with the click of typewriters and telegraph wires lending added excitement. But then, everything one did with Fritz was fun, was different.

"Come in," she called now in response to a knock at her door.
She hoped it wasn't her mother Emily insisting that she come down. Having seen the "tea" well on its way, Gaynel had slipped up stairs, hoping for a shower and short rest before her dinner date with Barry.

She was relieved to see Pat.
"Come on in, honey. I've just had my shower and I'm going to do my nails. What is it, Pat? You haven't been crying?"

"Yes, I have," Pat said. Her lips quivered, as though she might at any moment break forth again; her eyes, blue like Emily's, but holding a tinge of green fire, smoldered. "It's this new idea of Mother's—or rather of that hateful Melvin Mosby—I despise him!"

SHE drew her own face into a thunderous grimace. "Gay—I won't be an actress! I won't. I tell you! Make a mummy out of myself before a lot of people. Paint my face. Mother says I'll have to.
And Melvin, the worm, says I'll adore it. But I tell you before I'll act one single line in any of their nasty old plays—I'll kill myself!"

"Oh, come now, it isn't that bad, is it?" Gaynel tried to keep any amusement out of her tone or eyes.
This was no laughing matter to Pat. The child had succeeded in working herself into a state about it. She was just at that terribly self-conscious phase—Gaynel remembered herself at that age—when she thought she would rather die than be made a fool of.

"It's the worst idea Mother ever got! I mean it, Gay, I'll run away.
I'll leave home."

Gaynel put her arms around Pat, drew her closer. "You mustn't let yourself get so worked up over things. Trivial things."

Pat said dully, "This isn't trivial."

"Learn to smile, to laugh at things."

"I can't laugh if they make me make a fool of myself," Pat protested stubbornly.

Pat's lips quivered. "It's this new idea of Mother's—or rather of that hateful Melvin Mosby—I despise him."

really so set against it."
"I certainly will," Pat promised.
The stubborn look was vanished,

a radiant brightness taking its place.

SHE'S lovely, Gaynel thought.
She's going to be very attractive some day.

"You can always come to me.
Never forget that," Gaynel took the sweet young face between her hands. "Run along now, dear. I have to finish getting dressed or I'll be late."

"I think Barry's simply grand!"
Pat said as she left. "I wouldn't mind having dates, or even getting married, if I could find someone as perfectly grand as Barry."

So Pat took it for granted that her sister was going to marry Barry, too.

Oh, dear! Someone else at her door. At this rate she'd never be ready. "Yes?" she poked her head from the closet. It was Denny this time.

"What you doing, Sis? Playing hide-and-seek? Are you too dis-humble for me to enter your bon-doir?"

"Of course not... come on in, Denny," Gaynel came out of the closet. "I was just trying to decide what to wear."

"And of course you haven't a thing. Not one rag. You women!
Now a man—look at me!" He thrust his fingers in vest pockets, threw out his chest, "I've worn this same suit day-in day-out for the last 20 months. I really will have to invest in new raiment, come the spring, I fear... That's what I came to chat about, me love." His grin, always engaging, took on a slightly sheepish tinge.

"Always the same, sad mournful cry. You don't suppose, Sis, you could let me have a couple of nickels, now do you?"

"I don't suppose I should," Gay-nel said; but she never could refuse Denny. It would be the only way to get rid of him. She was getting soft. This would be the

"I'm afraid a ten will have to do," Gaynel said. She knew that Denny would forget all about paying it back. "You know as well as I do, Denny, that we're living way beyond our means. With the house free and clear, and Father's insurance, we should be able to manage nicely. But you'd think we had thousands each month to go on, instead of a few hundred and my salary."

24 Of 32 On British Plane Die In Crash

Government-Owned Craft Down In Poor Visibility

MANCHESTER, Eng., Aug. 20.—(P)—A twin-engine British Airliner hit a hillside near here in misty weather Friday and the British European Airways said 24 of the 32 persons aboard were killed.

BEA, owner of the plane, said in London 22 persons were killed outright and two others died later.

The company said the dead included 11 women passengers, four children, six men passengers and three crewmen.

All Britons But Two

BEA said all aboard the plane were British except two from northern Ireland.

The airliner, a Dakota (C47), was en route from Belfast, northern Ireland, to Manchester.

The company, which is government owned, said eight survivors are being treated at Oldham infirmary in the vicinity of the wreck, 13 miles northeast of Manchester.

Make Official Approach

BEA officials in London said the last signal from the transport reported it was making a normal poor visibility approach on the Manchester airport radio beam.

Factory workers and farmers heard the crash and hurried to find the plane smashed open and burning with dead and injured strewn about.

BEA said the plane carried three crewmen, 16 women, seven men, three small children and three babies. Among the survivors were three members of one family, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Evans and their 5-year-old son; another son was listed among the dead.

The full passenger list was with held pending notification of next of kin.

In Course For Radio Operators

Private James L. Donahoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Donahoe, 1903 South Stewart avenue, is enrolled as a student in the High Speed Radio Operators Course at the Southeastern Signal School, Signal Corps Training Center, at Camp Gordon, near Augusta, Ga. Pvt. Donahoe, who was formerly a radio announcer, enlisted at Sedalia on October 27, 1948, and received his basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. In two recent examinations he passed with the highest grades in the class.

Three-Way Auto Collision Friday

A three-way car accident on highway 50 about two miles east of La Monte, did considerable damage to two automobiles, but resulted in nothing more than slight bruises to the occupants. The accident occurred about 11:30 o'clock Friday night during a downpour of rain.

Richard E. Connor, Kansas City, Kas., driving a 1938 Plymouth sedan, was headed east and a 1949 Ford tudor sedan driven by Terry Files was going west and side-swiped. The Plymouth was knocked into a ditch on the south side of the highway, crushing in the left side and doing damage to the right side of the body as it went against the embankment.

Files' car continued down the highway nearly 150 feet, left the south side of the highway, and straddled a small ditch. Damage resulted to the left front portion of the vehicle.

Harold Meyer, a soldier from Ft. Riley, Kas., en route to Sceleville, Ill., was driving a 1937 Ford tudor sedan behind Connor. When he saw the accident was going to happen between Connor and Files, he applied his brakes and started skidding. His car missed the Files car but skidded around, heading back west, and slid into the Connor car.

With Connor were his mother, Mrs. Ivory Connor, and grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Cook. Both received bruises. In the car with Meyer were two other soldiers en route to their home on Mulberry Grove, Ill. and Stanley Bertelsman, Lenzberg, Ill. None of the soldiers were injured.

Files was reported as being alone in his car.

The wrecked cars of Connor and Meyer were brought to Sedalia by the George Chamberlain wrecker. Files car by Brown's AAA wrecker.

Showdown On States' Rights

Be Up To The Democratic Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—The long-deferred showdown on barring of States' Rights Democrats from the regular party organization will come next week.

The issue will be decided in a meeting Wednesday of the Democratic National Committee. It will be the first session of this group since the memorable 1948 convention battle over civil rights and the walkout of several southern delegations.

The meeting is to elect a successor to Chairman J. Howard McGrath, the Rhode Island senator who has been confirmed as attorney-general.

William M. Boyle, Jr., $30,000 a year executive vice-chairman of the committee, is expected to be elected without a contest. He has the approval of President Truman and McGrath.

Therefore the big fight will come over expulsion or retention of southern committee members who deserted the Truman ticket last fall in favor of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, States' Rights candidate who fought the President's 10-point program for legislation covering civil rights of minority groups.

The Thurmond ticket carried the states of South Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. Mr. Truman has said he is proud of the fact that he won without their support.

Seating of a number of the committee members from those states will be contested. Some compromises may be reached and there is a possibility a seat or two may be left vacant.

Contest From Texas
A contest also is coming from Texas. Byron Skelton of Temple left by air today to "present my credentials of election as Democratic National Committeeman from Texas." A state convention last September voted to replace National Committeeman Dwight Morrow of Houston with Skelton.

The state executive committee a week later decided to support the action. Morrow was elected at an earlier convention in Brownsville. The Skelton forces claim Morrow did not vigorously support President Truman in the election. Morrow says there is "no truth in the statement that I have not done my best for the Democratic party in Texas."

Morrow recently turned down an ambassadorship, saying he wanted to remain in Texas and stay on as national committeeman.

In sending out the call for the meeting, Sen. McGrath omitted invitations to members from Louisiana and Mississippi, saying "by their several actions at the (1948 national) convention and subsequently in the campaign they have left the Democratic party."

However, these members will be given an opportunity to present their case before a credentials committee in closed session Tuesday. This group will make its recommendations to the committee in open session Wednesday.

Cameraman Parachutes Into Manhattan

Fined $50 Under Law Enacted After Similar 1947 Leap

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(P)—A free-lance cameraman with penchant for photographing the city from a bird's eye view parachuted today for the second time into the towers of mid-Manhattan.

The repeat performance of his 1947 leap cost him $50—the amount of a fine imposed under a law enacted after his first jump.

The law makes it "unlawful for any person to jump or leave from aircraft or any other device in parachute within the limits of the city except in imminent danger."

Leonardo D'Atolico, 28, a former combat paratrooper, landed safely but precariously this afternoon on a nine-story apartment building on 38th street between Park and Lexington avenues.

Actually, only the parachute landed, hooking over a chimney of the building and leaving D'Atolico dangling in midair.

Police got him down while a crowd of several hundred looked on.

In May, 1947 he also landed without injury, in a backyard on 44th street, near Broadway.

Aimed For Times Square
That time he was aiming for the center of Times Square.

As in 1947, D'Atolico told police he pulled the stunt to take movies over the city.

As in 1947, he said the pilot of the light plane on which he hitched a ride didn't know he was going to jump.

In 1947, D'Atolico was charged with endangering other people's lives.

But, he said, the judge let him off with a suspended sentence and a warning.

Poisoning Of Mother Charge
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 20.—(P)—A shapely Indiana woman was arrested here today on a charge that she killed her mother by poison.

Officials said Mrs. Clarice Spurlock, 27, of Evansville also will be questioned about the death of her father and the illness of her husband.

Two detectives stopped Mrs. Spurlock as she and her husband entered town. She was held for Evansville authorities who had been seeking her.

Sheriff Frank McDonald of Evansville signed a murder affidavit yesterday accusing her of the death of her mother, Mrs. Eunice Irene Dearing, 56, who died in a hospital last Nov. 16.

The body was exhumed Aug. 3. And, McDonald said, an examination definitely showed poison caused the death.

The father, Winter E. Dearing, 59, died April 5. McDonald said his body also will be examined.

Mrs. Spurlock's husband, 39-year-old Arleigh, told reporters they were driving to Hot Springs, Ark., for a vacation when the law intervened. He was locked up briefly himself but was released.

When told he had to sign a receipt to get his property back from the police desk sergeant, exhibited shaky hands and said he couldn't write.

Mrs. Spurlock's attorney, Friel Hastings, said Spurlock was suffering from arthritis and was to be treated at Hot Springs.

Hastings said extradition proceedings would be waived. Mrs.

Communists Weakening In Finland

Strike Offensive Losing Effect As Workers Return

By Usko Kauppala
HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 20.—(P)—The nationwide Communist strike offensive showed signs of weakening today.

Workers in many areas returned to their jobs. A major split developed in the powerful Central Trade Union Federation.

Seedlings Available To Farmers

Multiflora Rose Used as Fences and Wildlife Habitat

Multiflora rose seedlings are being supplied throughout the State of Missouri to farmers to plant for fences—but the main object of planting is to furnish wildlife habitat. During the past several years the old hedge fencing has been destroyed and is being removed by many farmers, cutting down protection for wildlife.

According to William H. Struense, Conservation Commission agent for this district, more than 32,000 multiflora seedlings have been supplied by the commission for planting in Pettis county this spring.

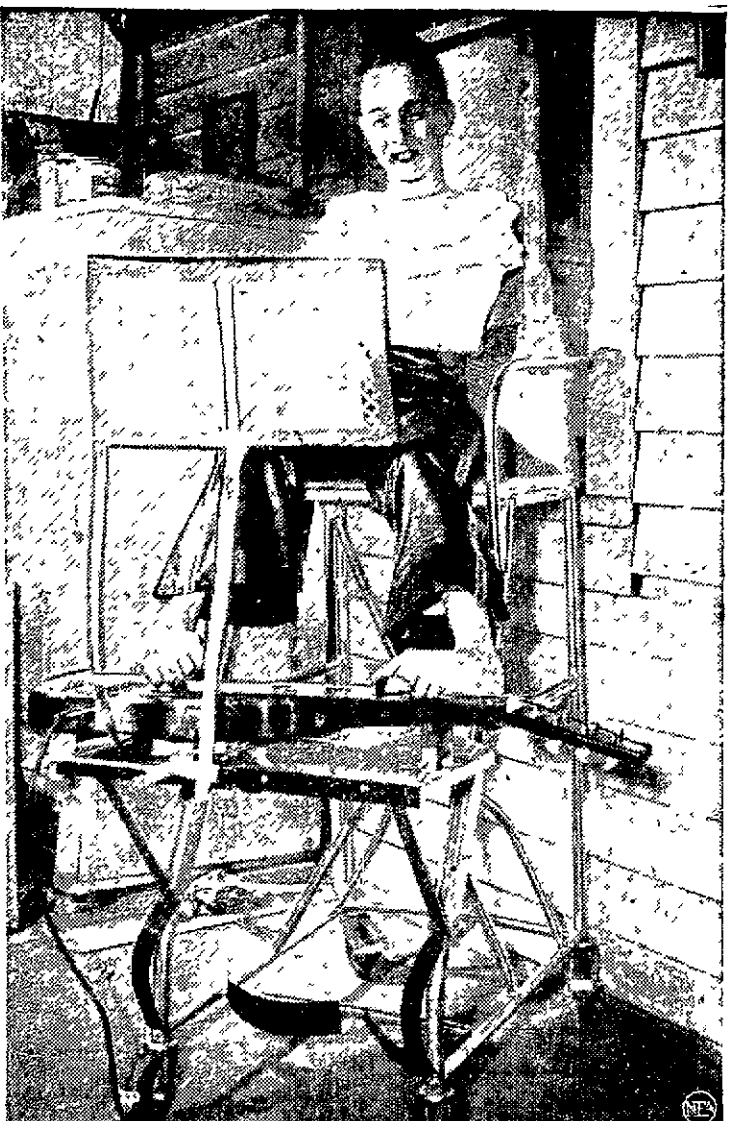

These plants were purchased and planted by individual farmers and landowners from the Conservation Commission.

3,500,000 Plants

A total of three and a half million multiflora plants were distributed and set out in the state last spring, totaling approximately 640 miles of combination living fence and farm wildlife habitat.

There are now between eight and ten million multiflora seedlings in Conservation Commission nurseries awaiting distribution to landowners this next spring, orders must be placed through the county agricultural extension agent between November this year and February 15, next. Delivery to the counties will begin February 20 and continue through April 20.

Landowners desiring the low-cost living fence, should make application early to be assured of delivery, and are urged to prepare their ground this fall. Those who now have multiflora plantings are urged to keep 'em weed-free

MUSIC IN HIS TOES—Born without arms, 10-year-old Billy Richard of Chicago has learned to play the Hawaiian guitar with his feet. He plays so well that he was given a $500 scholarship, awarded by the International Guitar League to outstanding students of the instrument.

Many Claims On Performance

Applications for the additional assistance offered under the 1949

Farm Program for the performance of the Permanent Pasture Improvement practice have been filed in great numbers with county PMA committee, reports Jas. A. Harvey, chairman of the local committee.

These requests for assistance in carrying out the practice is an indication of the value of good pasture. A good many of the farmers now making request for performing the practice this fall are those who in the past two or three years have carried out this practice on a small plot according to the specifications set forth in PMA regulations and with the assistance offered during that time under the Farm Program. They have learned the value from the standpoint of carrying capacity per acre and food value in production of milk and meat. Their intention now is to extend their pasture improvement practice to a large acreage with the additional assistance offered them on a part of that acreage.

All of the $2,000 additional assistance allotted to Pettis county has been obligated and notices mailed to the farmers approved for the special payment. Current reports will be obtained from these farmers as to the progress they are making in getting the job done so that the full amount obligated will be earned in the county, reports Harvey.

The sun is estimated to have 50,000,000 tons of platinum in the form of a gas heated to 11,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Fay Emerson Roosevelt in Television

By Ed Creagh
 (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(P)—It sounds like a terrible thing to say about a girl—especially when she's an actress and as pretty as a tree-ripened peach.

But those rumors you've been hearing are true, and truth will out.

This Faye Emerson Roosevelt is brighter than a shiny new dime, and a Roosevelt dime at that.

In four appearances on a radio-television quiz show, the late President's daughter-in-law has done more than stump the experts. She has bowled them over. She has left them groggy.

"It is not fair that she should have so much beauty and so many brains, too," growled Gregory Ratoff, the movie director, in a Russian accent as thick as the sour cream on a Chinese blintz.

Some of those present got the impression Ratoff wasn't entirely kidding. In her gentle, unbumptious way Miss Emerson had just fielded a question which the man from Hollywood had booted all over the studio.

She has a habit of doing that. In other appearances on the show—called "Who Said That?"—she out-experted H. V. Kaltenborn, left Quentin Reynolds at the post, and built up a three-to-one margin over one Elliott Roosevelt—her husband.

Dresses Up Screen

"Men," says Quizmaster Robert Trout, "respect Miss Emerson and it's not just because she dresses up a television screen."

"Besides, if there's a joke being concocted in the vicinity she wants to be in on it. And I'm well aware that she'd love to turn the tables and ask me a question I couldn't answer."

As for Miss Emerson herself, the brown-eyed blonde from Beaumont, Texas, looks on the whole thing as just good fun.

"I love working in television," she says, "and especially on a program with no rehearsals. I get a real kick out of working with such bright, quick-thinking people."

"I'd also like to do a television show of my own—as a commentator, and not just about recipes and fashions. . . ."

"No, I don't do any special studying before 'Who Said That?' I just read the seven or eight papers I read every day."

"Fan mail? Yes, there's quite a lot. It's surprising how many letters begin 'I am a Republican but—'"

"There was one priceless letter from a woman who misunderstood something I'd said about Thomas E. Dewey. She wrote in to complain that I'd called him a Red."

In each session of "Who Said That?" Trout reads quotations from the week's news and a panel of experts, or would-be experts, tries to name the well-known person quoted.

See how you'd make out with these:

Colorado Pete, veteran KMBC cowboy singer, has had a very interesting summer. In addition to regular appearances on his morning program, Dinnerbell Roundup and the Brush Creek Follies, Pete has been traveling in the KMBC-KFRM territory, contacting and making arrangements for personal appearances of the members of the talent staff. Pete's big smile wins new friends, whether it's with his singing on the air, or just visiting with the folks on personal appearances or in talking about bookings for other members of the staff.

Baseball takes over the spotlight on tonight's "Meet Corliss Archer" program on KMBC at 8 p. m. Corliss, played by Janet Waldo, tries to cure her boy friend of his love for baseball, and ends up as an avid fan. It's a delightful comedy program that we can recommend for family listening.

Two of the most popular quarter-hour programs in Kansas City are heard each weekday evening on KMBC. Erie Smith and Sam Molen team up with latest news and sports at 6 and 9:30 p. m. on KMBC. Smith's complete news roundup is followed by 5 minutes of complete sports coverage by Molen, and their programs long have been area favorites in the Heart of America.

These programs resume regular broadcasts on Monday, after summer vacation, on KMBC. At 5:45 p. m. each day, Monday through Friday, Lowell Thomas and the News will be heard. And, at 10 p. m. Monday through Friday evening, you'll hear the Beulah show, starring Hattie McDaniel. The Jack Smith Show, at 10:15 p. m. also returns Monday evening. This year Jack will have Dinah Shore and Margaret Whiting as guest stars on this highly entertaining quarter-hour program.

Hiram Mortimer Higsby continues to keep things moving in his own particular style on two highlight KMBC shows. Hiram is emcee of the daily Dinnerbell Roundup program, and of course takes his harmonicas and ballads with him every Saturday night as he keeps things rolling at a fast pace at Brush Creek Follies.
